STATE PUTS RT. 62 BYPASS ON AGENDA

Rebels Killing Many Russians In Hungary

VIENNA (AP)—Bands of Hungarian freedom fighters, well armed and striking by night, are reported inflicting heavy casualties on Soviet forces in southern Hungary.

Reports reaching here from Budapest said these still unconquered remnants of the anti-Soviet revolt are centered in the heavily wooded regions around Pecs, site of Hungary's uranium mines.

From their forest hideouts the guerrillas, particularly in the Mecsek Mountains and around Lake Balaton, were said to be attacking the Russian units nightly. The Russians reportedly have assigned one of their most energetic commanders to the region to track down the holdout insurgents.

A news blackout screened the Russian sweep. Telephone connections between Budapest and Pecs were unaccountably broken today.

In snow-flecked Budapest, thousands of Hungarians plodded wearily through the cemeteries, trying to identify their dead among the unclaimed bodies from the Soviet-crushed revolt. Hundreds of simple black wooden coffins, their lids open for identification purposes, were scattered about the graveyards.

There has been no official disclosure of the number killed in the revolt. Estimates range from 20,000 to 50,000.

Budapest radio, controlled by Premier Janos Kadar's Soviet-supported government, acknowledged that "almost 100,000 Hungarians have left the country for Austria." The number who have fled to Austria since Oct. 28 actually totals nearly 110,000.

Rebels Land On Coast Of Cuba

Planes Strafe 'Enemy' Forces

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—The Cuban army said rebel troops landed on Cuba's south coast and government forces were advancing on them early today.

It said army planes had strafed an "enemy" band and scattered it, and that the navy had intercepted a yacht off the coast and found baggage believed to belong to Fidel Castro Ruz, a Cuban student leader who has been in exile in Mexico.

A small-scale rebellion began Friday at Santiago de Cuba.

Castro Rumored Slain

Rumors spread through Cuba that Castro had been killed. But the army said it could not confirm that the 30-year-old former Havana student was even in the country. Frequently accused of plotting against the Batista government, he has been living in Mexico City. Mexican officials said Saturday he was still there and under police observation.

(A dispatch to the Miami Herald said government planes bombed and strafed a band of 40 commandos in a sugar field between Manzanillo and Nicaro on the south coast, killing Castro.)

Earlier today Gen. Pedro Rodriguez Avila, army general adjutant, said the rebel band landed in Oriente province, north of Santiago de Cuba, under the command of Castro. He did not give the rebel band's strength.

The army statement denying knowledge of Castro's whereabouts came later.

The official statement said a Mexican-registered yacht had been intercepted by a Cuban navy unit near Cape Cruz on the south coast.

It said government forces were

Middle East Situation Reviewed

Ike, Dulles See Good Prospects For Peace

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles believe prospects for peace in the trouble-ridden Middle East "are now reasonably good."

Dulles, returning to the job after a month's convalescence from intestinal surgery, put it that way at the conclusion of a two-hour review of the general international picture with the President here Sunday.

"Certainly I think anybody must be indeed far gone in pessimism if he thinks the danger of the war in the (Middle East) area today is as great as it was a month ago," Dulles told a news conference.

But both Dulles and the President believe steps are necessary to bolster the North Atlantic Alliance, which they agreed has been strained as a result of differences between the United States on the one hand and Great Britain and France on the other in the Middle East crisis.

Unity, Strength Needed

They also agreed that need for "unity and strength" of that alliance, fashioned to check the threat of Communist aggression has been "tragically demonstrated by Soviet action in Eastern Europe, particularly in Hungary."

That was a reference to Russian terrorism which crushed a revolt in Hungary and sent more than 100,000 residents fleeing into Austria.

"The President," said Dulles in a statement Eisenhower approved "is particularly concerned with the strains and dangers that flow from persistent disregard by international communism of the principles and pleas of the United Nations."

One case in that category is Russia's disregard of the U.N. denunciation of Soviet ruthlessness in Hungary.

"Nations in both Asia and Europe," Dulles went on, "remain forcibly divided; many peoples are subject to a ruthless external rule which they deeply resent, and many live in fear, under the shadow of a similar fear."

Want Prodding By U.N.

Proposing persistent U.N. prodding, Dulles then said the people of such nations "should be allowed their own free choice of

Eden's Cabinet In Fateful Week

To Tell Parliament Of Egypt Withdrawal

LONDON (AP)—Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd said today Britain and France have decided they can now withdraw their forces from Egypt "without delay."

Lloyd told a tense session of the House of Commons the two governments "have instructed the Allied commander in chief, Gen. (Sir Charles) Keightley, to seek agreement with the United Nations commander, Gen. E. L. M. Burns, on a timetable for the complete withdrawal, taking account of the military and practical problems involved."

He said:

"The French and British governments have come to the conclusion that the withdrawal of their forces in the Port Said area can now be carried out without delay."

Lloyd declared, amid opposition Laborite jeers: "Given good faith on all sides it (the withdrawal) can be carried out in a short time."

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Eden's Conservative government, hard-pressed by critics of its Middle East policy, today opened a fateful week in Parliament.

With Eden recuperating in Jamaica from the strain of recent events, it was left to Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd to tell the House of Commons in a speech today that British and French forces are pulling out of the Suez Canal zone.

The two allies, under hard pressure from the United Nations, the United States and some commonwealth members, were believed planning to get most of their troops out of Egypt before Christmas.

48 Hours to Think

After Lloyd's speech, the House will have 48 hours to think things over before beginning a two-day foreign policy debate. This will culminate in a vote of confidence Thursday night.

There was a chance—but only a chance—that a revolt among his own parliamentary followers at the crucial point would turn the vote against Eden and force him to resign.

But it was considered more likely that distasteful as the government's policy might be to some

Mental Health Talk Set For Thursday

Solving mental health problems on a community-wide basis will be discussed by Fred Beckman of the Ohio Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction at a meeting of the League of Women Voters at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Public Library assembly room.

The meeting is open to the public.

Beckman, assistant to the administrator of the department, will explain how other districts, similar to Columbiana County, have provided assistance to emotionally disturbed children and adults through the establishment of professionally staffed mental health clinics.

Miss Harriet Percival, chairman of the league's mental health study, will preside.

Beckman will also address the Columbiana County Mental Health Association at a luncheon meeting Thursday at the Wick Hotel in Lisbon.

Hungarians Agree To Let In Hammaraskjold 'At Later Date'

U.S. Presses U.N. To End Soviet, Hungarian Stalling On Observers

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Hungarian government today accepted the offer of Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold to visit it Budapest but specified that the visit should be "at a later date appropriate for both parties."

At the same time, the puppet Communist regime again rejected the demands of the General Assembly for the entry of U.N. observers into Hungary to investigate the situation there.

The position of the government was set forth in a telegram from Acting Foreign Minister Istvan Sebes to Hammarskjold.

The communication was circulated to delegates as the 79-nation Assembly met to consider a resolution, sponsored by the United States and 13 other countries, pressing once more for the entry of U.N. observers. The resolution noted with deep concern the failure of the Soviet Union to withdraw its troops from Hungary and to cease deporting Hungarian citizens.

The new proposal asked the governments of Hungary and the Soviet Union to communicate with Hammarskjold by Dec. 7 their consent to receive U.N. observers.

In the communication to the Secretary general, Sebes said "the Hungarian government is, as before, of the opinion that the permission for United Nations observers to enter the territory of Hungary would violate the sovereignty of Hungary and would be contrary to the principles of the United Nations Charter."

Then, referring to Hammarskjold's offer to go to Budapest personally to look the situation over and to arrange for U.N. relief machinery, the acting foreign minister said:

"In order to make it possible for your excellency to conduct direct negotiations with the Hungarian government, the revolutionary workers and peasants government of the Hungarian people's republic is ready to welcome your excellency in Budapest at a later date appropriate for both parties."

The Assembly has approved four resolutions on Hungary since Nov. 4 but the Soviet-installed regime in Budapest has ignored them all. The resolutions included Assembly calls for admission of U.N. observers, withdrawal of Soviet troops and establishment of a U.N. relief organization in Hungary.

Budapest also has not given a definite answer to U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold's plea to be permitted to initiate the U.N. relief work.

Some leading Western delegates at the Assembly already are showing their anger privately at the

U.N. Moves Into Port Said Area

Allied Troops Hope To Leave Shortly

PORT SAID, Egypt (AP)—U. N. police troops took over occupation of a quarter of Port Said today and like wildfire the British-French garrison buzzed with "out of the trenches in 14 days—home by Christmas."

The mood of British and French troops was jubilant. They anticipated definite orders sometime today to begin packing for the trip home.

The British navy, meanwhile, reported that surprisingly fast progress was being made reopening the northern end of the clogged Suez Canal. Navy men said they hoped to open the northern bottleneck of scuttled ships in two weeks and that intelligence reports indicated the damage in the Egyptian-held southern sector is not so great as first believed.

The U. N. Command poured more troops around the canal's Mediterranean entrance to take over from the British and French. With the cease-fire line 24 miles south of the city occupied by a wedge of Indian troops, there did not seem much point in staying on in the eyes of British and French soldiers.

On the east bank of the waterway, Israel announced it had cleared a 30-mile-wide area of Egypt's Sinai Peninsula for the U.N. troops to occupy. A spokesman said Israel was awaiting word from the U.N. commander on when the police troops would arrive.

Theodore Kibler, 41, of East Rochester, was cited on a similar charge after his car struck an auto operated by Harold Tintin, 23, of Carrollton on Rt. 30 in Kensington Saturday at 12:40 p.m.

Roert Allmon, 18, of Salineville was arrested for reckless operation and using fictitious plates after his car went off the side of the road and hit a tree on Rt. 39, six miles southwest of Wellsville, Sunday at 6:20 a.m.

Two Turncoats Returning Home

Pate, Wilson Hope To Be In U.S. For Holiday

HONG KONG (AP)—Two more American turncoats from the Korean War, who decided they didn't want to live in Red China after all, hope to get back to their families by Christmas.

Arley Pate, 26, of Carbondale, Ill., and Aaron Wilson, 24, of Uralia, La., reached this British crown colony Sunday after spending three years with the Chinese Communists.

"I went to China because I wanted peace," Pate told newsmen. "I didn't find it there, and will now go back to lead a peaceful life with my family."

Wilson nodded agreement.

21 Stayed Behind

They were among 21 American war prisoners who decided to live in China after the Korean conflict ended in 1953. Four others returned ahead of Wilson and Pate, and one died in China.

The two latest arrivals said they knew of none among the 14 remaining with the Communists who might ask to leave.

Pate said he had "never heard of the Suez Canal crisis or of uprisings in Hungary."

Both said they were only workers in China and heard no lectures on communism. Of communism, Pate said, "If people want it, they can have it."

Three Married Chinese

They said three of those still in China had married Chinese girls in Tsinan: Albert C. Belhomme, Ashland, Pa.; Lowell D. Skinner, Akron, Ohio; and Howard G. Adams, Corsicana, Tex.

Eight County Men Enter Armed Forces

LISBON—The Columbiana County draft board forwarded eight men to Cleveland for induction today into the armed forces, filling the December quota.

Leaving were: Dean Newlen, Charles Richard McKinnon, all of East Liverpool; Minzio Salvatore Lombardozzi of Wellsville; Richard Thomas McClish, 584 Granite St., Salem; Daniel Earle Libby of 410 West Lincoln Way, Lisbon; Jarry K. Sweeley of Leetonia; Richard Ray Stoffer of Homeworth; and Arliss Johnson Gorbey of Negley.

Included In $900 Million Ohio Projects

Routes 30 And 7 Jobs In County Also Approved

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state highway department today announced plans to build 900 million dollars worth of roads in the next four years—if it can get enough money.

Included are expensive city expressway systems and bypasses that have been in the planning stage for years.

These include a Route 62 bypass just north of Salem in Columbiana County at an estimated cost of $2 million dollars and two other projects in Columbiana County:

U. S. Route 30 for a distance of five miles beginning just east of Kensington, $3 million, and Rt. 7, and U. S. Route 30, in East Liverpool, four-tenths of a mile, $2.6 million dollars.

The four-year program includes building of and buying land for the remainder of a superhighway from Cleveland to the Pennsylvania line.

Copies of the program are in hands of highway department division engineers.

$422 Million In Sight

The department has enough money in sight to handle a $422-$250 million road-building program for two fiscal years beginning next July 1. And it has money available to buy land needed for roads it wants to build the two years after that.

But before actual construction can begin on the $467,570,000 in roads planned for the two years beginning July 1, 1959, the department will need more funds.

That's the gist of the recommended road-building program the department has submitted to the state highway construction council for its approval or modification. The council has the last word on programming major thoroughfare projects.

The council has 60 days to act. Then the program goes to the governor and from there to the state Legislature.

The state still has 168 million dollars of its 500 million dollar bond issue for major thoroughfares available for the new program. The first two-year construction program will gobble up 113 million dollars of that.

Lacks $3 Million

The state still will lack about 43 million dollars needed to build all the roads listed in the program sent the construction council.

Local and federal funds will help pay for the projects. The federal government will pay 90 per cent of the cost of approved projects on the federal interstate system.

State Highway Director S. O. Linnell says $85,637,670 in federal interstate funds has been authorized for a one-year program beginning next July 1 and that amount will shoot up to 123 million dollars for each of the next three years.

When state funds are used up, the state will have only revenue from its share of the two cents gasoline tax. This brings in about 20 million dollars yearly above

Mishaps In Ohio Kill 22 People

20 Of The Deaths Occur On Highways

By The Associated Press
A prospective bridegroom and his best man were killed Friday night when the car carrying them to the wedding in Cincinnati skidded on icy U.S. 20 about two miles east of Painesville and struck a tree.

The double death was two of 22 accidental deaths in Ohio over the weekend according to an Associated Press survey covering the period from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Sunday. Twenty of the deaths occurred in traffic accidents.

Two Zanesville residents were killed Saturday when their auto skidded on snow-covered U.S. 40 six miles west of Zanesville, sideswiped another car and collided head-on with a Greyhound bus.

In Cleveland, a woman and her three-year-old daughter died of injuries received Friday night when their car struck a tree on Cleveland's east side.

Three Springfield youths were killed when their car collided with a second vehicle on Ohio 29 near Mechanicsburg Saturday.

The fatalities:

Friday night:
Conrad A. Carlson, 22, and Lawrence J. Harrington, 23, both of Erie, Pa., when their car hit a tree on U.S. 20 about two miles east of Painesville.

Charlene Heman, 15, Lima, when the car in which she was riding overturned on U.S. 68 four miles north of Springfield.

Richard Bateson, 18, Rt. 2, Crooksville, when his car hit a bridge six miles west of Malta and rolled down an embankment.

Mrs. Dorothy Bigbee, 24, and her daughter, Barbara, 3, when the car in which they were riding struck a tree north of the Wade Park underpass on Cleveland's East Boulevard. Mrs. Bigbee died in the crash. Barbara died in a hospital Saturday.

Saturday:
William Rager, 26, Newton, when the car in which he was riding hit a utility pole in Cincinnati.

George Henry Jr., 30, and Mrs. Oona Monlux, 44, both of Zanesville, when their car skidded on ice, sideswiped another car and collided head-on with a Greyhound bus on U.S. 40 six miles west of Zanesville.

Students Riot For Better Food

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Hundreds of University of Michigan students joined in a food-throwing, dish-smashing demonstration in dormitory dining halls Sunday night in protest over meals.

Shouting "We want good food," the demonstrators, all male students, spattered plates of asparagus and vanilla pudding against the walls.

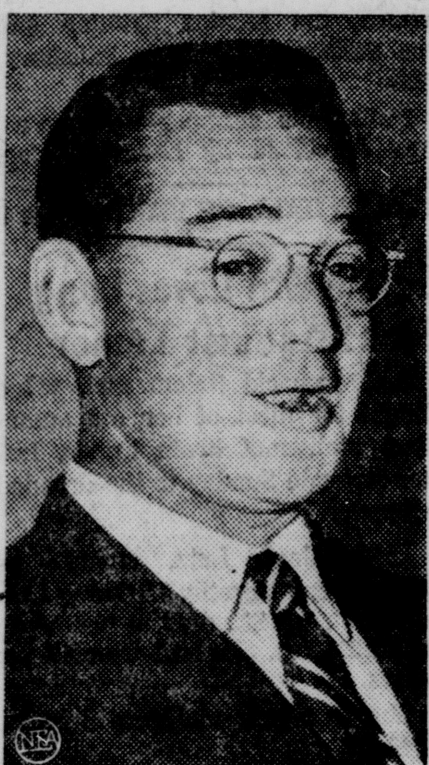

When officials closed food lines and cleared the rooms, the crowd continued the tumult outside. They rocked automobiles and threw snowballs at police.

The hubbub subsided after Walter B. Rea, dean of men, promised an investigation.

Dave Gumenick, 19, of Detroit, a student, said his schoolmates felt the quality of dormitory food has been deteriorating since school opened last September.

Gilbert P. Lutz, assistant business manager of university residence halls, said there hadn't been any complaints until Sunday night.

In World War II, he served as a colonel in the U.S. Air Force.

Area Corn Farmers To Vote Dec. 11 On Price Supports

WASHINGTON (AP)—Corn farmers in 71 Ohio counties will vote a week from Tuesday on the kind of price supports they want on corn for the next three years.

Balloting will be part of a nationwide referendum. The outcome is expected to provide a clue as to whether corn eventually may be removed altogether from the support system.

In the Dec. 11 referendum, farmers will be asked to approve either of these proposals:

1. Extension of the present corn price system, with supports fixed at between 75 and 90 per cent of parity. It will take only one-third of the national vote to make this effective.

2. A new plan to permit the secretary of agriculture to fix supports in 1958 and 1959 at any level below 75 per cent of parity if he chooses. A two-thirds vote is required to authorize this program.

If the present price support system is extended, Ohio farmers can count on a sharp reduction in their allotted corn acreage—from 2,534,035 acres this year to 2,156,784 in 1957. The 1957 support rate under this plan would be $1.36 a bushel. But if the new plan wins, the Ohio allotment for corn would be 2,949,833 acres minus 15 per cent to be set aside in the "soil bank." Under this plan, the support price in 1957 would be $1.31 a bushel.

This year will mark the first time that three Ohio counties—Athens, Columbiana and Mahoning—will be included in the commercial corn area. That designation will make corn farmers in the three counties eligible to vote in the referendum.

The only Ohio counties not voting in the corn referendum are Gallia, Meigs, Washington, Noble, Monroe, Guernsey, Belmont, Harrison, Jefferson, Carroll, Summit, Portage, Trumbull, Cuyahoga, Geauga, Lake and Ashtabula.

Party-Liner Has Phone Off Hook; Home Burns

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Because a party-liner had his phone off the hook, fire destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emory Hunt near Waynesburg Sunday, firemen said. Unable to use the phone because the line was open, Hunt drove a mile and a half to town to report the blaze. Chief Norman Bankert estimated damage at about $6,500.

6,000 Ohio Teachers To Quit By End Of Year, NEA Reports

WASHINGTON (AP)—Six thousand teachers in Ohio's public schools will quit by the end of the school year, the National Education Association estimates.

Star Pupil Flunks Her Final Driving Exam

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—A Los Angeles woman has been doing so well with her driving lessons that recently she and her husband bought a new car.

Sunday, Nico Udung took his wife Nina out for another lesson.

The car hit a dip in the road, climbed the hood of a parked auto and bounced onto the rear deck of another parked car.

No one was hurt. The Udungs' shiny 1957 sedan, with only 1,012 miles on the speedometer, was wrecked.

Mrs. Udung, weeping, said she'd got her foot on the accelerator instead of the brake pedal.

WOMAN FOUND SLAIN

CLEVELAND (AP)—Police today sought a "shabby man" for questioning in the slaying of 61-year-old Marie Vargo, who was found stabbed to death in the rear of her confectionery store Saturday night.

Officers said the shabby man was seen on the sidewalk near the store shortly before the victim was last seen alive.

The worst automobile accident toll in history was marked up in the United States in 1955 with 37,800 traffic deaths.

That is about one tenth of all elementary and secondary school teachers in the state. NEA said 5,847 Ohio teachers left during the last school year.

NEA's figures, included in a state-by-state school survey, gave this breakdown on why the Ohio teachers are quitting this year:

Twenty per cent—Marriage or family reasons; 20 per cent—retirement; 12 per cent—moving to other states; 8 per cent—other employment; 40 per cent—miscellaneous.

NEA listed the average pay for an Ohio public school teacher at $4,400 a year.

This compares with the national average of $4,200.

The survey also includes these other items on the Ohio school situation as it exists today:

Two per cent of the school children cannot go to class full time because of a shortage of teachers or class rooms.

There is a "considerable" teacher shortage in rural elementary schools, but "practically none" in the urban elementary and secondary schools.

There is a "considerable" shortage of elementary and secondary school buildings, both urban and rural, with 4,375 new classrooms needed either to reduce class size or replace obsolete rooms.

There are not enough men and women now training for teaching in Ohio to meet the need for new teachers in the next three years.

Kansas Battles Liquor Importers

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Holiday spirits can come high in Kansas if you cross the state line to buy them in Missouri.

A lot of Kansans along the state line do. Kansas estimates it lost $317,257 in tax revenue on such doings-on last year. Something is being done about it this holiday season.

Several teams of Kansas state agents are stationed on the Missouri side of the line, equipped with binoculars and radios. They park near liquor stores, watch for Kansas license plates and tip off other officers by radio whenever they see a Kansan heading home with a large package. If picked up with more than two quarts of liquor not bearing Kansas revenue stamps, the erring Jayhawker is taken to the nearest magistrate. The penalty is $10 to $500 and costs. The liquor is confiscated. A fifth of good whisky can be bought in Missouri as much as $1 cheaper, chiefly due to tax differences and Kansas price-fixing laws.

2 Men Killed In Gun Fight

2 Others Wounded
In Texas Panhandle

SHAMROCK, Tex. (AP) — A gunfight which started in Oklahoma, killed a teen-age member of a posse and wounded two officers ended in the Texas Panhandle Sunday with the capture of a gunman dozing beside his dead half-brother.

James William Whiteard, 21, of Phoenix, Ariz., told officers he shot Junior Bard Myers, 32, to death in the dark, thinking Myers was part of the posse which surrounded them.

Victor Lee Stephens, 19, was killed in a gunfight Saturday at dusk while hunting for the pair on his father's ranch.

Texas Ranger Jim Paulk said Whiteard signed a statement saying he shot Myers when he blasted with a sawed-off shotgun at a figure in the brush.

Officers said Myers had numerous aliases and a long arrest record in the southwest and on the West Coast. They said Whiteard apparently had no record, but also went under the name of James Hunter.

The men were trapped near here Saturday night in a 1,200-acre area of scrubby brush on the ranch of J. B. Stephens, the slain youth's father.

Officers surrounded the area while planes dropped flares. Bloodhounds were flown in. At sunrise they led mounted officers to the pair.

Whiteard was sitting up dozing, an empty whisky bottle nearby. He did not resist.

Myers was lying about 30 yards away, his half-frozen body torn with shotgun slugs and his left arm broken.

A loaded shotgun and a high-powered rifle lay nearby.

The chase started Saturday at Texola, Okla., after the men's auto hit another car and sped from the scene.

Deputy Sheriff Marvin Skinner of Texola chased the car. They fired and killed Skinner's chin. He radioed to Texas officers.

Deputy Sheriff Luke Nienley and Patrolman N. M. Nix of Shamrock sighted the car on a dirt farm road and gave chase.

The two men leaped from their car and started firing with a rifle and pistol. The officers left their car and fired back with shotguns. The fugitives fled into the brushy pasture.

Nix was lightly wounded in the arm. Nienley's coat was torn by bullets but he wasn't hit.

Help was summoned and officers started into the brush. Young Stephens asked if he could come along. "I have a good rifle," he said.

"We were going up to a hedge-row with the Stephens boy out in front," Collinsworth County Sheriff John Rainey said. "I spotted one of the men hunched over hiding and told him to rise with his hands up. . . . The other gunman who was up front cut the boy down with a rifle. . . .

"Then both men opened fire. . . . Shooting continued from both sides until total darkness fell."

Nearly 10 officers from Texas and Oklahoma surrounded the area during the night.

Officers said Myers was wanted for questioning about bank robberies at Dover, Ark., and Hearne, Tex., and for assault to murder.

No charges were filed immediately against Whiteard.

And Good Luck

National Safety Council is astonished because auto fatalities were 12 per cent below its expectations in October. The council's statisticians are proud of their ability to predict highway accidents with certainty.

But statisticians, like pollsters, get off the beam when something happens to the assumptions on which their predictions are based. Something happened in October.

Not as many motorists as could have been expected tried to pass on blind curves. Not as many as the statisticians were counting on tried to become air-borne. Not as many as usual crashed into immovable objects.

On the other hand, there were not as many victims of highway foolishness on the part of others as had been counted on by statisticians. Dozens of people who had been destined to die on a statistical basis remained alive because they were lucky. A few dozen may have remained alive because they gave survival an extra-hard try. And a great many must have stayed alive because they were shot with luck. They were neither the perpetrators nor victims of the horrible and lethal indignities inflicted on humanity by the misuse of automobiles in the hands of people who lack skill, judgment, or both.

They could be lucky again in November, but it would not be a good bet. Human nature does not change that fast. The law of averages never changes at all; it just stutters occasionally.

Balance Sheet

When the Anglo-French invasion of Egypt has been written off as a fiasco, which will have occurred before the beginning of next year, historians can start to prepare the balance sheet.

The British and French will have lost all the prestige that once made it possible for them to dominate the Middle East. They will have lost nearly all the resources that made the Middle East a prime asset in their colonialism.

They already have lost not only the Suez Canal but its use for many more months to come. They have made it inevitable that western Europe will suffer from an oil shortage this winter.

By dropping a match into the powder keg of Arab nationalism, they have created ideal circumstances for whatever wild adventure the Kremlin may try to start in Syria and Jordan.

And throughout the world at the very instant when Russian violence against Hungary was dramatizing the need for unity among non-Communist countries, the British and French have proclaimed with their own planes, guns and tanks that they can be as ruthless as the Russians.

It is not pleasant to know that many Britons and Frenchmen are blaming the United States for their troubles. But it is easy to understand why they must blame somebody for a fiasco that backfired so disastrously. If they tried to bear all the blame themselves, they would be crushed.

Military Gamble

To paraphrase a much-quoted remark by Winston Churchill during World War II, the United States did not become the whipping boy for British and French imperialists to preside over construction of a Russian empire in the Middle East.

If the Soviet Union makes the fateful move of trying to impose its influence in the regions where British and French influence never can be effective again, the United States will make the equally fateful move of going to war.

There will be no questions of settling the matter with token intervention by the United Nations. There will be no possibility of stopping the Kremlin with a rallying of popular opinion and adoption of a few resolutions.

The half-hidden side of the Middle East crisis is the military gamble the United States is making. Its fighting resources have been mobilized and put into a state of readiness unmatched since the end of World War II in 1945.

Its militarists are in a state of mental preparedness as well as physical preparedness. They are not underestimating the possibility of another Pearl Harbor. They are not underestimating the possibility of another Korea, either.

President Eisenhower symbolizes devotion to peace at any cost short of betrayal of national principle. The United States will not let any Communist horde trample the Middle East without going to war.

That now is the last best hope of peace—the thing the Kremlin must not be allowed to misunderstand.

We still think that reasoning things out with little tots is the best way to whip them into shape.

There's a difference between an attractive blonde and pretty brunt and it could be over the same young man.

We'll admit that a lot of second-hand cars go "Perfectly okay!" as far as they go.

Years of Growth

By JOHN D. RARIDAN

A Review of the Career of Louis H. Brush

Strong and unbroken are the ties of craftsmanship which link the newspaper of yesterday with the newspaper of today. In the long scope of American journalism we are so sentimentally intertwined with our predecessors that their problems, frustrations and achievements seem also to be ours.

The Founders were valiant men who fought from bleak Colonial days through an entire century for the simple right to print and circulate information and opinion.

The Custodians were those who inherited that right by Constitutional provision for freedom of the press. They were on guard, as we are yet today, to keep this freedom. Even so, the Custodians, often confined to scant political sustenance, were undernourished. Only the strong were able to survive.

The Builders were those who, at the turn of this century, had to find the wherewithal for expansion of plant and personnel, so that readers could be served with greater satisfaction and so that they, the Builders, could, without knowing it, propel American commerce to fantastic success through the magic of advertising.

THE STALWARTS of Ohio journalism were both Custodians and Builders. In the latter classification, Louis Herbert Brush and his contemporaries came upon the scene at a time when diligence and dollars were essential if we were to have both editorial independence and business growth.

The son of James Alpheus Brush and Amelia McCall Brush, two beloved professors at Mount Union College, Louis H. Brush was born January 24, 1872. The Alliance public schools and Mount Union College prepared him for the career he was impatient to undertake. An older brother, Harlan W. Brush, worked at the Alliance Review and printer's ink had an intoxicating aroma for Louis. Not a day too soon to suit this young man in a hurry, the Review put him to work in the circulation department, wrapping bundles, soliciting subscriptions house to house, keeping records and making collections.

The Ohio Sun, at Youngstown, needed a circulation manager in 1893 and Louis Brush qualified for the job. A year later, word came to him that the owners of the Salem News, occupied in other pursuits, were searching for a business manager. Louis Brush, at 22, persuaded them to try him. They were agreeable to a salary of $12 weekly, with the understanding that he could buy an interest in the company.

HIS PROBLEM — the development of revenue — was not uncommon. Publishers all over Ohio were in the same boat. Some were trying to do a mite about it by membership in a small organization, the Associated Ohio Dailies, loosely put together a few years earlier to trade advice, systems and second guesses. Among them, the organization's first president, W. S. Cappeller, owner of the Mansfield News, had a reputation for helpfulness to baffled young men of the craft. Louis Brush went to him for counsel.

Mr. Cappeller urged, first of all, that Mr. Brush join kindred souls in the Associated Ohio Dailies and at the 1894 meeting he did. Six years later he was elected secretary, to serve with distinction in that capacity for the good of Ohio newspapers 23 successive years.

Membership in the A.O.D. solved none of Mr. Brush's riddles at the outset but he had, aside from the impelling knowledge of his paper's cash requirements, an additional reason to want them solved. His marriage in 1895 to Miss Maude Stewart, Mount Union classmate and the daughter of a doctor at neighboring Church Hill, moved him to further strenuous effort, so much so that, in 1897, he thought he saw prosperity lurking just around the corner.

WHAT HE SAW, if it was prosperity rather than hope, had little in it to charm other stockholders of the Salem News. They were ready and willing to sell out to him, lock, stock and barrel. He borrowed the money to do so.

Now, more than ever, he needed such help as the Associated Ohio Dailies could give him. Other members, if their organization was to expand and be worth while, needed Mr. Brush's enthusiasm, affability and diplomacy.

In the organization at its inception there had been a vague uneasiness. The era of personal and bitter partisan journalism was dying out but it was passing reluctantly. There were memories and wounds that took time to heal.

Louis Brush, in his capacity as secretary, set himself to a mission. Over the years he succeeded in achieving warm cohesion, exchange of confidences, helpful comparison of costs and general promotion for the common good.

FEW NEWSPAPERS in Ohio had advertising revenue of consequence in 1894 when Louis Brush took on his responsibilities at Salem. National copy consisted of a few patent medicines. Local copy mildly made known the seasonal changes in male clothing. No females were around then. At least no advertising was directed to them.

By 1904 the air had stirred.

Mr. Brush's contribution to Ohio journalism was recognized Saturday night by his inclusion in the Hall of Fame at Ohio State University.

There were more patent medicines and they were predominant. Agencies were at work in New York, Chicago and Cincinnati but the pickings still were slender. There was local copy occasionally, to sell furniture, pianos and kitchenware. There still were seasonal offers to men and boys about clothing, shoes and hats. A few females had shown up. A line or two of advertising now and then mentioned suits for ladies, hose and muslin underwear.

What there was of advertising ran on a repeat basis, the same copy time after time. The reason for this is clear. No small paper could find or afford the number of printers, setting type by hand, to accommodate changes.

BUT THE BUILDERS were busy, in the Associated Ohio Dailies and back home on State street. Louis Brush and his contemporaries knew one thing with certainty, that to be unfettered in their service to the reader their newspaper had to be financially successful. They knew, or had begun to feel, what William Allen White later put into words: That advertising had in it the potency to transform America into a place of comfort, that it could improve the standard of living, increase wants and ambitions, stimulate capacities to produce and thus increase buying power.

They knew, also, that there were prophets of doom who said commercialism would destroy the newspaper and weaken its obligation to the people but they rejected this hypothesis as irresponsible nonsense.

The problem was clear and twofold. Advertising had to be sold and it had to be accommodated. The times were propitious. A remarkable new device, Ottmar Mergenthaler's Linotype machine, had been introduced in the larger newspapers but until now, in the early 1900s, it was beyond the financial reach of small town papers in Ohio.

ONE BY ONE, machines came into use, pinched out of meager revenues or borrowed money.

These mechanical improvements brought the dawn of a new day for other Ohio publishers and for Louis Brush in operation of his Salem News and in operation of his East Liverpool Review, acquired in 1901. More than anything else, they made possible the production of advertising in volume and in forceful typographic character by freeing hand compositors to handle business copy. They stimulated advertising salesmanship. Publishers of the day were creators of opportunity.

The results were plainly visible by 1910. There were women and girls in the world after all. Advertisers took note of it. They were directing their copy to them, selling crepe kimono, corsets, suits, hats and shoes. Parenthetically, it should be said here that advertisers have learned their lesson. Today they aim almost exclusively at women and girls and, if this were not so, we might all be on our way back to hand presses.

Type and ink were used to sell all manner of things from the merchant's shelves and, in addition, to sell real estate, business college courses, gas lamps, electricity and then, glory be, automobiles.

TO ALL OF THIS, there was reader response, an expansion of plants, and merchandising turnover.

The departure of Warren G. Harding from his Marion Star to the White House foreshadowed a new chapter in the affairs of Louis Brush and a partnership with two friends which linked them together in mutual confidence for the remainder of their lives.

Mr. Brush and Roy D. Moore, by 1923, had decided to find a newspaper which they could own together. They were hopeful of locating one long established and successful, in a growing community. Both were friends of Mr. Harding. Mr. Brush had known him intimately from their early days together, trading shop talk at meetings of the Associated Ohio Dailies.

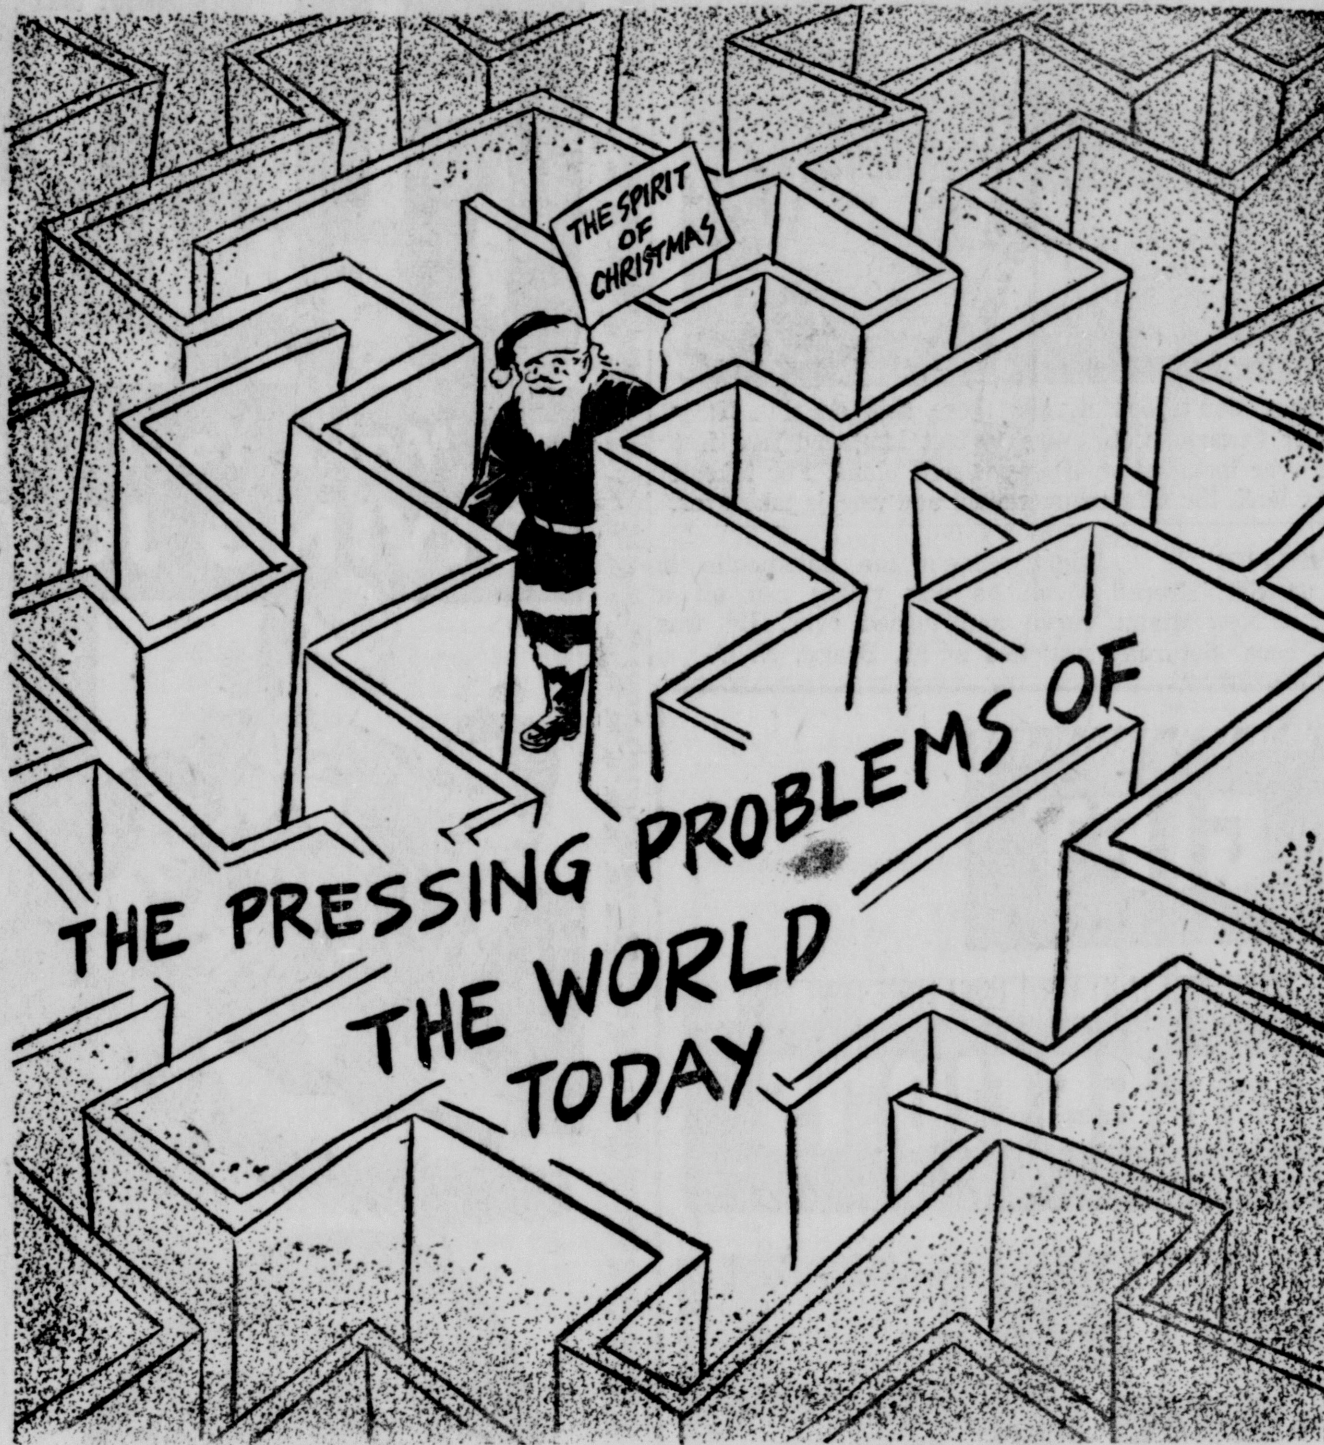

Why not his paper, the Marion Star? Would he, after the Presidency, be disposed to return to the Star or might he be willing to sell it to men of moderation in their journalistic practices? There could be no harm in asking.

Twice President Harding said no. He preferred to retain the paper with which he had been identified from young manhood. He knew Mrs. Harding had a strong sentimental attachment for it because she, with him, had worked hard on its staff when the going was difficult. Well, he'd think about it.

A THIRD TIME, Mr. Brush and Mr. Moore persisted. President Harding sold the Star to them only a few days before his departure for Alaska and his sudden death at San Francisco.

In the transaction, the partners had the legal assistance of their friend, William H. Vodrey of East Liverpool. Thereafter, Mr. Brush, Mr. Moore and Mr. Vodrey were as one when, in 1927, they created Brush-Moore Newspapers, Inc.

Let's All Give The Old Fellow A Hand

Russia and the United Nations

By DAVID LAWRENCE

The United Nations has been humiliated by the Soviet government, on whose orders the puppet government in Budapest has been refusing U. N. observers any access to Hungary.

If the territory of a member country cannot be visited by United Nations representatives, it means that a cloak of secrecy has been imposed to blind the eyes of the world organization and keep it from knowing the truth.

The "iron curtain" now has become a wall of defiance by the Soviet government which everybody knows has absolute control of the alleged government at Budapest says.

How can the United Nations permit the Moscow government of its puppet in Budapest to remain members of that organization? The Charter does not contain a specific provision stipulating how expulsion shall be carried out but certainly under any procedures known to established governments or tribunals there is such a thing as recognition and non-recognition of the credentials of members.

THUS IT WOULD be practicable to keep the name of Russia on the membership roll of the U. N. but to ask the representatives of the present government to depart from the U. N. premises because the U. N. no longer recognizes their presence as official.

Obviously, a government which will not even extend within its borders the courtesy of access to the representatives of the U. N. has no respect for that institution and hence the privileges of the U. N. should be indefinitely withdrawn.

Rep. John W. McCormack of bringing under their three-way partnership the Salem News, the East Liverpool Review, the Marion Star, the Steubenville Herald-Star, the Canton Repository, and subsequently, the Portsmouth Times, the Ironton Tribune and the Salisbury Times on the Eastern Shore of Maryland. Mr. Brush was the company's president until 1946 and thereafter chairman of the board.

Aside from his newspaper interests, Mr. Brush served the cause of education as trustee of Mount Union College from 1923 and as treasurer from 1937 until his death. The college made him an honorary Doctor of Laws Oct. 20, 1938. His generosity to Mount Union will be continuously helpful to its students.

WILLIAM MCKINLEY'S "front porch" campaign in Canton in 1896 gave Mr. Brush his first stimulating interest in national politics, inspiring his participation in all subsequent campaigns.

He was a trustee of the McKinley Memorial Association and of the Harding Memorial Association. Death came to Mr. Brush on June 24, 1948, at Philadelphia. As editorially noted then, he was one of the best known figures in a generation of Ohioans at the Republican National Convention, there on the scene, among old friends, working for the Presidential hopes of another Ohioan, Robert A. Taft.

The long and useful career of Louis Herbert Brush, recognized by his inclusion in Ohio Journalism's Hall of Fame, has in it much by way of inspiration for other young men following in his footsteps and making their contribution to the future.

Massachusetts, Democratic leader of the U. S. House of Representatives, is rightly aroused over the indignity of the Communists in refusing permission to the secretary general of the U. N. to investigate conditions in that country.

Mr. McCormack thinks U. N. planes should not wait for permission but go in anyhow. He says that if the planes are stopped and the personnel arrested it will be proof of the incapacity of the present Hungarian government to discharge its responsibilities to the United Nations.

Sen. Knowland, Republican leader of the Senate, a few days ago called for the expulsion of Soviet Russia from the U. N. because of what has happened in Hungary.

THE SECRETARY GENERAL has been waiting patiently for two weeks to get an answer to the request he made after the General Assembly instructed him by resolution to proceed to Hungary and make a first-hand study of conditions there.

It is apparent that the U. N. now will have to consider all the evasive replies and excuses given by the puppet government at Budapest.

A case can now be made for the withdrawal of recognition of the existing Hungarian government.

A simple resolution is all that's needed, declaring the seat of Hungary to be vacant and adding that representatives from Hungary will be accepted whenever a free government arises.

The United Nations has recently received a new lease of life. Persons who have been discouraged before by the failure of the U. N. to assert itself have in the last few weeks taken on new hope. Will the U. N. Assembly rise to the occasion and show the whole world that it will not tolerate defiance and indignity?

The satellite countries are supposed to be independent. But when they are continuously occupied by the Soviet troops and a ruling government is removed at any moment by orders from Moscow it is clear that there is a violation of the pledge inherent in the Charter which, in effect, says the territorial integrity and political independence of member countries must be preserved.

A VERY IMPORTANT precedent can be established if the U. N. acts wisely in the case of Hungary today. The charter authorizes the U. N. to concern itself with any threat to world peace. It can even examine internal questions if there is present an external factor threatening internal peace.

The Hungarian conflict has its internal aspects — one set of Communists is fighting against another set. But it is acknowledged that a foreign government — in Moscow — is acting to subjugate and control the existing government and has used its own troops to deny the people their right to self-determination.

The U. N. team of observers, if admitted to Hungary, can report the facts. Small wonder the Soviet government fears the truth. For the full story of what is happening if disclosed can conceivably arouse all the oppressed peoples in Eastern Europe to assert themselves further in their undying struggle for independence.

Vain Search

It makes dismal reading that for the second successive year the Nobel Peace Prize Committee, meeting in Norway, has been unable to find anyone worthy of its cherished award.

We must assume that the committee has searched diligently for a citizen of the world whose contributions to the cause of peace merited their accolade. That they could not find one is perhaps an acute commentary on these times.

Peace is the great goal of free men. Yet to give it lasting foundations today seems a more elusive task than ever. In many corners of the earth leaders in varying walks of life are striving desperately to accomplish it. Despite their efforts, the Nobel committee had to say sadly: "None of these will do."

And as the committee returns to the search for another year, the explosive events of Europe and the Middle East underscore their trials.

Governors And Killers

The U. S. Governors Conference Committee on Highway Safety held a meeting the other day. We trust they didn't drive back home with the speed often displayed by governors' cars.

WE NOTED that this important committee consisted only of the governors of Connecticut, Nebraska, Tennessee, New Mexico, Wyoming, Idaho, New Jersey, Oregon and Illinois.

Most of these states have the least amount of crazy driving. We wonder why there are no governors on this all-important board from New York, California, Florida, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Ohio and other states which have more than their quota of potential killers. (And what about Michigan, where the auto was born and which turns out faster cars every season?)

THIS LATEST HUDDLE was held in Connecticut with Gov. Abe Ribicoff as chairman. Here is a governor who really packs a wallop in his war against reckless drivers.

He has led the states with measures revoking licenses, beginning with first offenders, his effective slogan being: "An autoist may not slow down to save a life, but he will slow down to save his license." No truer word ever came out of a statehouse.

BUT THE FACT REMAINS that in most states the roads are crowded with second, third and even fourth offenders; that reckless drivers are kept in circulation with minimum interference and that licenses by the million are being issued to applicants who are not a good bet to operate a bicycle or pogo stick safely.

Stand on any street corner anywhere to observe autoists making the turn from one street into another and you can't escape the conclusion that most of them never were told the Number One Basic and Elemental rules governing corner turning since the days of ox-cart.

And when before in all the history of vehicles did you find thousands of people driving at high speed almost on top of the vehicle ahead, trusting wholly to luck in a situation that could mean agony and death.

THE GOVERNORS' CONFERENCE came out with a mouthful when it declared, "No program can succeed without enthusiastic public support."

The public will support only what it fully understands. Vigorous leadership by governors and legislators with support from civic groups is necessary.

In our book the governors are not going all-out, the legislators are too busy with their own alibis for going through red lights and the civic groups are just saying, "What's the use? The guy who imperils lives at a speed of 65 miles an hour put up a bond of $15, forfeited it gladly, and was not seriously inconvenienced!"

WE JUST HAD a frightful dream. . . . In it we had been ganged-up on, surrounded and beaten into a corner. . . . We yelled for help and GOT KRISHNA MENON!!

With Shelley Winters as the star of "Girls of Summer" would you say the idea was to "winterize" the show?

Song for the TV stations: "There's No Business Like Show BUZZINESS."

Saratoga, N.Y., has a Horse Thieves Detection Association still in existence and now 138 years old. . . . This supports a contention that there are just as many horse thieves as ever, and that it is just a case of fewer horses.

A part of the Winchester Repeating Arms plant, for years famed for its rifles and six-shooters in the trail-blazing days, is being converted into a nuclear fuel plant to develop sources of nuclear power. . . . This would come as a terrific surprise to the old buffalo hunters, Indian fighters and frontier marshals.

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

That the average man may be worn down more by his clothes than his woes. His winter clothing (counting contents of pockets) weighs about 9 pounds, that of the average woman only 2½ pounds.

That jaywalking moose are a railroad problem in Alaska. About 800 a year are killed by trains.

That President William Henry Harrison was the only occupant of the White House who kept his own milk cow.

That a survey of Ohio teenagers showed half the girls and 20 per cent of the boys failed to eat breakfast regularly.

That Americans hate to walk more than any people on earth, yet buy more shoes (better than three pairs a year per person) than any other country.

That cats have been known to eat socks out of sheer boredom, which also may explain a lot of odd human eating habits.

That after childbirth in some South American Indian tribes it's the father who goes to bed and, feigning exhaustion, lies there while his wife arises and waits on him and the baby hand and foot.

(This custom may sound primitive—but they rarely lose a father!)

That 6 of every 100 babies born in this country are now delivered by caesarean operation.

That the new 41,000-mile national highway system, although it will represent only 1.2 per cent of America's road mileage, is expected to carry 20 per cent of the traffic.

That the Duchess of Windsor likes to raid the icebox at midnight — and her favorite snack is frankfurters.

That about 209,000 automobiles will be stolen this year, and in 6 of 10 cases where arrests are made the thief will be a youth under 18.

THE ANIMALS' CHRISTMAS

BY WALT SCOTT

In The Service

Pfc. Byron E. Provins, son of Mrs. K. Umstead, RD 1, Salem, recently participated in a field training exercise with the 11th Airborne Division at Augsburg, Germany.

A demolition specialist in 2nd Battalion Headquarters Company of the division's 511th Infantry Regiment, Provins entered the Army in August 1954 and arrived in Europe last February.

He attended Salem High School.

Specialist Third Class Kenneth E. Baird, son of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Baird, RD 5, Salem, recently participated in "Sabre Knot," a field training exercise with the 559th Field Artillery Missile Battalion in Germany.

A launching crewman in the company, Baird entered the Army in April 1955 and arrived in Europe last May. He is a 1951 graduate of Greenford High School.

First Lt. George W. Fisher, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Fisher, 66 Salem St., Columbiana, is a member of the 268th Field Artillery Battalion at Fort Bragg, N.C.

Lt. Fisher entered the Army in December, 1954, and is assigned to the battalion's Battery C. He was graduated from Ohio State University in 1954 and is a member of Kappa Phi Kappa fraternity.

Second Lt. Raymond J. Kluth, whose wife, Donna, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Kluth, live on RD 5, Lisbon, recently was graduated from the Army's Transportation School at Fort Eustis, Va. Lt. Kluth completed the school's transportation officer basic course for officers who recently received their commissions.

The lieutenant was graduated from Ohio State University in 1955. He entered the Army in September, 1956.

Pfc. George Harovlakis, son of John Harovlakis of Salem participated in a command post exercise recently with the 11th Marines, an artillery regiment of the 1st Marine Division at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Paul A. Bauman, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Bauman of Damascus, enlisted in the army on Nov. 16, it was announced by Sgt. Emuel Bosley, the local Army recruiter.

Pvt. Bauman is the first from this area to enlist under the new two-year enlistment program the Army recently adopted. Under this program qualified young men are enlisted for two years in the Army. The recruiting sergeant recommends which part of the Army the enlistee is to serve in and also recommends three jobs that he is to be trained in.

Pvt. Bauman is a 1956 graduate of the Goshen High School, and is now at Fort Knox, Ky., where he is receiving eight weeks of basic training. After basic training he will be sent to one of the army's Signal Corps schools for specialized training.

Miss Helen Johanna Siefke Wed To Don B. Loutzenhiser

New York City is the honeymoon destination of Don B. Loutzenhiser and his bride, the former Helen Johanna Siefke, following their marriage Saturday morning in St. George Catholic Church in Lisbon.

Rev. Fr. F. T. Thome officiated at the nuptial high mass which united in marriage the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Siefke of RD 4, Lisbon, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Loutzenhiser of 205 S. Howard Ave.

The double ring ceremony was performed before the altar which was banked with palms and ferns. Candelabras and twin baskets of white chrysanthemums and red poinsettias completed the sanctuary decorations. White bows marked the pews.

Prior to the service, a prelude of nuptial melodies was presented. Thomas and Betty McKenna sang the Mass and Mr. McKenna sang "Ave Maria," "Panis Angelicus" and "On This Day Oh Beautiful Mother" as the bride placed a bouquet on the Blessed Virgin altar. He also served as organist.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was attractively gowned in a creation of white Mariam Mist taffeta, fashioned with a Sabrina neckline of Alencon lace trimmed with sequins and seed pearls, and long pointed sleeves. The elongated bodice featured an overlay of Alencon lace at the neckline. The billowy skirt ended in a court train.

Sequins and pearls studded the matching taffeta pillow hat from which fell her fingertip illusion veil. Calla lilies and white carnations topped the white prayer book carried by the bride.

Green and red velvet gowns were worn by the bride's attendants. The gowns were designed with strapless bodices, matching bolero jackets and long torsos. The full hooped skirts were of velvet and net.

Mrs. Henry Siefke Jr., sister-in-law of the bride, who returned this week from Germany, appeared in green velvet. The bridesmaids, Miss Ruth Hartford of Lisbon, Mrs. Ronnie Hannay of Salem, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Lillian Hentemann of Cleveland, cousin of the bride, were attired in red velvet gowns.

Their matching open crown hats were scattered with pearls and featured brief veils. All carried colonial bouquets of white mums. The flower girl, Paula Sutherin of Salem, niece of the bridegroom, appeared in a gown of white net over taffeta trimmed with green velvet. Red feathered carnations and white pom poms formed her colonial bouquet.

Paul "Rusty" Sutherin of Salem, nephew of the bridegroom, was ring bearer. Ronald Velosky of Duquesne, Pa. served as best man. The ushers were Joe Siefke of Lisbon, brother of the bride, Benno Hentemann of Cleveland, cousin of the bride, and George Rober of Salem.

A brunch was held immediately after the ceremony at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Siefke, where the couple's mothers, Mrs. Siefke chose navy blue crepe while Mrs. Loutzenhiser wore royal blue crepe with matching accessories.

after the ceremony at the Wick Hotel in Lisbon. Close friends, relatives and out-of-town guests were present. Mrs. Arthur Tritton of Lisbon and Mrs. Matt Green of Salem poured.

Dinner for the wedding party and relatives was held in the afternoon at the bride's home. Two hundred guests attended the reception in the evening at St. George's Parish Hall. White carnations encircled the four-tiered wedding cake which centered the linen-laid table. Whit tapers completed the setting.

Mrs. Patricia Sutherin, sister of the bridegroom, cut the cake, and Mrs. Ernest Gardner and Miss Sally Hartford poured. Mrs. Green registered the guests from Salem, Cleveland, Youngstown, Pittsburgh, Girard, Greenville, Pa., Columbiana, Leetonia, East Liverpool, Detroit and East Palestine.

A graduate of Lisbon High School Mrs. Loutzenhiser is employed by the Arbaugh Furniture Co. Mr. Loutzenhiser graduated from Salem High School and attended Kent State and Pennsylvania State Universities. He is presently serving in the Army as a radio operator at Miller Field, Staten Island, N. Y. Upon release from the service in May, he plans to continue his education at Pennsylvania State University.

For her wedding trip, the bride wore a turquoise net dress with matching jacket, brown and turquoise accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet. The couple will reside at 205 S. Howard Ave.

The bridegroom's parents were hosts at the rehearsal dinner Friday at Timberlanes. The couple presented gifts to the wedding party.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Goist and daughter Paulette of Tiffin spent a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Goist.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Painter of Sigle, Pa., visited relatives here. Mrs. Harold Brown, member of the Damascus Garden Club, received a red ribbon on her traditional Christmas glory table entered in the Salem Garden Club Show Thursday and Friday. She also received a green ribbon on her invitational arrangement.

Mrs. Rex Israel, member of the Sebring Garden Club, received a green ribbon for her invitational arrangement. Bridge was played when the S.O.S. Club was entertained by Mrs. Frederick Lane Thursday evening with Mrs. Drexel Knoedler and Mrs. Robert Knoedler guests.

Prizes in the games were awarded Miss Pearl Yates, Mrs. Lee Pelley, Mrs. Lauriston Lane, Mrs. Drexel Knoedler and Mrs. Robert Knoedler. Lunch was served at the table with a centerpiece of snapdragons and carnations. Mrs. Lauriston Lane will be hostess to the group Wednesday evening, Dec. 19 when gifts will be exchanged.

Jack Mather has been returned to the Children's Hospital in Akron for treatment after spending two weeks at home. He and Roger Whitcheer of Damascus, who is receiving grafting on his leg following burns, are in the same room. Gifts will be brought for a needy family and gifts will be exchanged in a grab bag when Garfield Juvenile Grange members will be entertained at a Christmas party by the Subordinate Grange members Dec. 12.

Plans were discussed at a meeting Wednesday evening, for the program which they will present at the party. Mrs. Richard Golobom is the matron of the Juvenile Grange.

Mrs. Ethel Cameron and Mrs. Anna Hall attended the Farm Bureau Convention in Columbus, being delegates from the Butler Rural Advisory Council.

Robert Bell and son Bobby visited R.Ross Bell and Clarence Sechrist of New Waterford Wednesday.

Rev. C. R. McPherson is holding evangelistic services in the Wesleyan Methodist Church in Warren.

Mrs. Martig Hostess To Club Associates

A one o'clock luncheon was enjoyed by 11 members of the B. and M. C. Club Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Jesse Martig of the Damascus-Berlin Center Road. Mrs. Ruth Williams of Portland, Ore., a former member, was a guest.

New secret pals were chosen for the coming year during the short business session. A donation was made to the building fund of the Bunker Hill Methodist Church.

The Dec. 16 Christmas party will be held at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Robert Dixon of Calla Road.

Sandra Chandler Is Shower Honoree

Miss Sandra Chandler, bride-elect of Raymond Abrams Jr., was honored at a linen shower Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Donald Reichert of Damascus Road.

Favorite recipes of the guests were given to Miss Chandler, who filed them in a recipe box presented to her by the hostess.

The 18 guests were seated at a long oval dining table set with crystal and silver. In keeping with the shower theme, the table was covered with a silk cloth imprinted with parasols in pastel shades. The centerpiece depicted a bride and bridegroom strolling in a Japanese garden where a "blue bird of happiness" was perched on a branch of a white and gold tree. Parasols in pastel shades were favors marking the place settings. White tapers in silver candelabra lighted the setting.

Miss Chandler, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Chandler of W. 10th St., has chosen Dec. 16 for her wedding day. The ceremony will be solemnized at 3:30 p.m. in the First Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Abrams is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Abrams Sr. of Lisbon.

Emmanuel Daughters Plan Family Yule Party Dec. 12

Daughters of Emmanuel of the Emmanuel Lutheran Church will sponsor a family Christmas party Dec. 12 at the church. The Martha Circle will serve as group chairmen of the party.

Hostesses from the various circles will be: Hannah, Mrs. Gus Schuster and Mrs. Norman Muntz; Esther, Mrs. Minnie Rutter, Mrs. William Adams, Mrs. Vincent Moore.

Martha, Mrs. Mike Binder, Mrs. Peter Herman, Ruth, Mrs. Walter Weber, Mrs. Andrew Kekel Jr.; Naomi, Miss Margaret Zalko, Mrs. Margaret Harrington and Mrs. George Theiss.

The next meeting of the circles will be a business session at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the church basement.

Individual circle meetings were held Wednesday as follows:

Hannah
Seventeen members of the Hannah Circle met at the home of Mrs. John Melitschka. Guests were Mrs. Richard Freseman, Mrs. Anna Schuster and Mrs. John Weber.

"Come Ye Thankful People Come" was the opening song. Mrs. George Gottschling conducted the devotional service using portions of the book of Micah. Mrs. Rudy Kloos was program chairman.

Mrs. Norman Muntz reviewed the article, "The Well and the Water," and Mrs. Dale Thompson reviewed "Spinning Whirling Into Nowhere." Both articles were from the Lutheran Standard magazine.

Mrs. John Bauman gave an interesting account of the trip she and Rev. Bauman made in September to Washington, Oregon and California.

Cookies will be donated for gift boxes to be sent to shut-ins at Christmas time.

Mrs. John Ulrich will represent the church in helping the Salvation Army pack baskets for the needy. Mrs. Mike Linder will represent Daughters of Emmanuel at a YWCA meeting.

The January circle meeting will be held at Mrs. Freseman's home. Mrs. John Pauline, Mrs. Martin Polder Jr. and Mrs. Mike Linder will be co-hostesses.

Esther
Mrs. Freseman, a guest, was welcomed by 17 members of the Esther Circle in the home of Mrs. Joe Pasco. Roll call was answered with a scripture verse. Mrs. Francis Daly led devotions. Her topic was "Overflowing Hearts."

The program chairman, Mrs. Ronald Whipkey, read and discussed the topic, "Our Cup of Blessings from the Outlook magazine." Mrs. Whipkey explained the season of Advent, and Mrs. Freseman displayed a wreath with a white candle for each day of the week and a red candle for each of the four Sundays in Advent.

Mrs. Rutter had charge of the business meeting. Mrs. Rudolph Bodendorfer, Mrs. Simon Wagner and Mrs. Whipkey will help prepare the Christmas boxes.

The hostess served lunch, with the assistance of Mrs. David Kachner and Mrs. Jack Krepps.

Martha
Martha Circle members met at the home of Mrs. Charles Weber. Mrs. Charles Nelson was co-hostess.

Mrs. Peter Herman led the devotions. She used the topic, "Overflowing Hearts." Mrs. John Kehrer, a guest, presented the program. She gave a talk on a "Best Seller," the Bible.

Ruth
Thirteen members of the Ruth Circle met at the home of Mrs. Eugene Spack. Mrs. Spack led the prayer and the devotional topic, "Upper Rooms."

Mrs. Ronald Fleischer reviewed the topic, "Open Thine Hand Wide" and Mrs. Joe Weiss reviewed the book, "The Church We Love." "Thanks Be To God," an article from the Outlook magazine, was given by Mrs. Fred Theiss. The group sang the hymn, "Thanks Be To God."

The group will have a Christmas meeting at the home of Mrs. Howard Smith Dec. 19. There will be a covered dinner.

Mrs. Isie Murdock was a guest. Mrs. Simon Spack and Mrs. Fred Reed were associate hostesses.

Naomi
The Naomi Circle met at the home of Mrs. Andrew Drotloff.

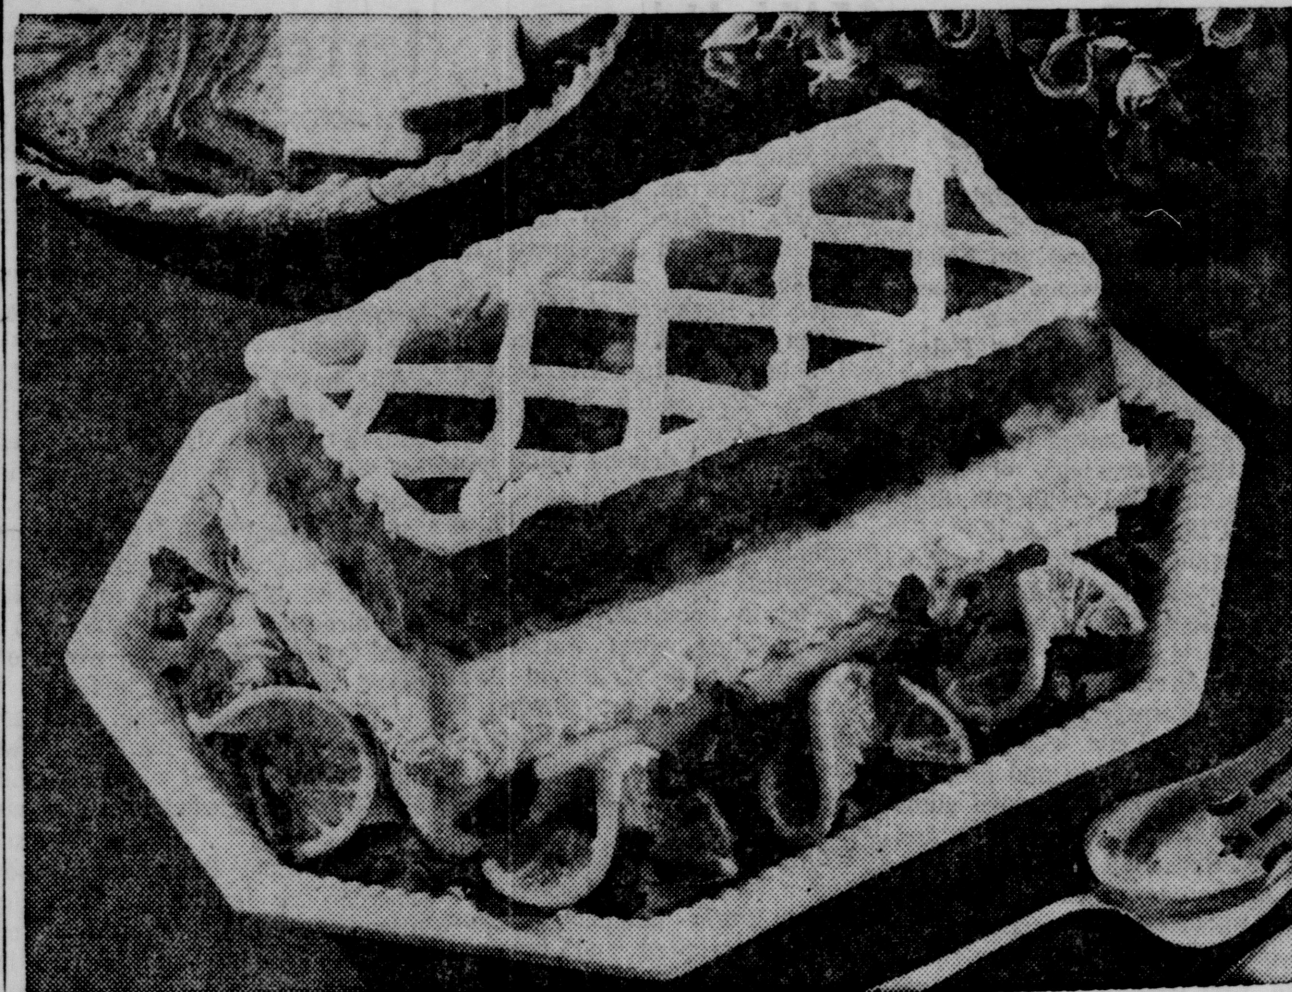

Mrs. Simon Theiss was cohostess. The 13 members answered roll call with scripture verses. "Overflowing Hearts" was Mrs. Joe Gross' devotional topic.

Miss Margaret Zalko reviewed "Blessings of the Sacrament." Mrs. William Panuska, "Thanks Be To God," and Mrs. Rudy Schuster, "Joy to the World," all articles from the Outlook magazine.

Assisting with the Christmas gift boxes will be Mrs. Schuster, Mrs. John Huber, Mrs. George Theiss, Mrs. Joe Gross, Mrs. John Lutsch, Mrs. Panuska and Miss Zalko.

The group voted to send a life membership pin for the Women's Missionary Federation to Mrs. Amelia Bodendorfer in Florida.

Salad Mold Contains Separate Gelatin Flavors

A two-toned combination of lime juice), ½ cup finely chopped unpeeled cucumber, 1 (3-oz.) package lemon gelatin dessert, 1 (8-oz.) package cream cheese, softened.

No need to reserve this festive salad for special occasions since it is easy to prepare and can be molded well in advance leaving you time to complete the garnishings when serving.

To prepare the salad use 1 (3-oz.) package lime gelatin dessert, 3 cups hot water, 1 cup drained, canned crushed pineapple (reserve juice), ½ cup finely chopped unpeeled cucumber, 1 (3-oz.) package lemon gelatin dessert, 1 (8-oz.) package cream cheese, softened.

Dissolve lime gelatin in 2 cups of hot water. Chill until consistency of unbeaten egg whites. Stir in pineapple and cucumber. Rinse (9x5x2-inch) loaf pan with cold water. Pour in gelatin mixture.

Chill until almost firm. Dissolve lemon gelatin in remaining hot water. Measure pineapple juice; add cold water to make 1 cup of liquid. Add to lemon gelatin. Beat in cream cheese until mixture is smooth. Pour on top of lime layer. Chill until firm, about 3 hours. Unmold. If desired, garnish loaf with cream cheese.

Girl Scout Group Holds Christmas Tea

Mrs. Joseph Greenwood, president of the Salem Council of Girl Scouts, entertained leaders and standing committee members at a Christmas tea Wednesday afternoon in her home on E. State St.

The tea table, laid with white satin, was centered with an arrangement of autumn decorations flanked by tall white tapers in silver candelabra.

Members of the board of directors assisted Mrs. Greenwood. Mrs. F. S. Barckhoff presided at the silver service.

Fold crushed pineapple (drained) into soft vanilla ice cream; place in freezing compartment of refrigerator until ice cream is firm and serve for a company dessert.

Salineville

The Altar and Rosary Society of St. Patrick's Church met recently at the parish house.

Mrs. Clifton Rhodes, president, was in charge. Rev. Oliver led devotions. Lunch was served by Mrs. Grace Polen and Mrs. Eva Maher. The next meeting will be Jan. 8.

Alpha Sorority met at Kellogg's social room Wednesday evening when plans were made for a Christmas party Dec. 12, at the home of Mrs. Mary Fitch.

Mrs. Jean Hines entertained the Happy Ten Club Wednesday evening. Club prizes were awarded Mrs. Iva Hines, Mrs. Audrey Maher and Mrs. Maude Maher. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Iva Hines.

Miss Nelle Toban, teacher at the Central grade school, is ill at her home. Mrs. Fred Cochran right-wing Conservatives, enough of the diehards would close ranks behind the Prime Minister rather than risk defeat by the opposition Labor party in new national elections that would have to be called.

4 Points in Doubt

The Conservative rebels looked to Lloyd for assurance on four main points:

1. That the U.N. will let British and French salvage experts help clean up the blocked canal whether Egypt likes it or not.
2. That the reopened canal will be open to all shipping without discrimination, including that of Britain, France and Israel.
3. That the U. N. will sponsor a settlement of the canal controversy which will ensure that sole control is not held by Egypt.
4. That the U. N. police force is big enough and strong enough to keep the peace after the French and British get out.

pursuing the "enemy" troops on the coast.

The government intelligence service announced the arrest of 12 Venezuelans it described as "part of a group of 60 mercenaries in Cuba" to participate in the revolt.

This was the first report of participation by citizens of another country.

The uprising began early Friday with attacks by civilian bands on police stations in Santiago de Cuba. At least 12 persons were killed and more than 50 wounded.

Just Sunday the army said the revolutionary attempt had been "completely crushed." It gave diehard rebels 24 hours to turn in their weapons.

Dr. David Tomb Of Canfield Dies

CANFIELD — Dr. David D. Tomb, DDS, 60, of 211 W. Main St. died of a coronary occlusion at 1 a.m. Sunday at the Youngstown Club.

Born Jan. 13, 1896, in Johnstown, Pa., he was the son of Dixon and Ida Risinger Tomb. He married Vera H. Lewis of Youngstown, July 26, 1945.

An oral surgeon, he resided in Canfield 22 years, coming from Youngstown. He was a graduate of Cincinnati College of Dental Surgery, post graduate of Northwestern University College of Oral Surgery, and in 1923 he received a law degree from Youngstown University.

He was a member of the Canfield Methodist Church, Youngstown Club, American Society of Oral Surgeons, International College of Dentistry, Croydon Palmer Dental Society, Wesson Dental Association, and past president and charter member of the Youngstown Bridge Club.

Besides his wife, he leaves a son, David D. Tomb III of Youngstown; three brothers, Elliott H. Tomb of Redondo Beach, Calif., Clarence R. Tomb of Philadelphia, Pa., and Robert C. Tomb of Grosse Pointe, Mich.; three sisters, Mrs. Pearl T. Lightcap of Youngstown, Miss Rosalie H. Tomb of Grosse Pointe, Mich., and Mrs. M. J. Ackerman of Johnstown, Pa.

Services will be held Tuesday at 2 p.m. at Forest Lawn Chapel in Youngstown, with Dr. Roland A. Luhman officiating. Interment will be in Forest Lawn Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Williams Funeral Home in Canfield this evening.

government with no servitude to any other," he added.

"The President and I feel that this situation ought increasingly to engage the attention of the United Nations in discharge of its charter mission to promote peace with justice."

Dulles flew here from Key West, Fla., where he had been recuperating the last two weeks from an intestinal surgery which disclosed a cancerous condition. However, his physicians said they removed all trace of the malignancy.

"I feel fine," the smiling Cabinet member told newsmen after he had conferred with Eisenhower and was leaving to return to his State Department desk. And he looked good—tanned and in a jovial mood.

The secretary and his wife attended church services with the President and Mrs. Eisenhower, then went to the Augusta National Golf Club, where the chief executive has been combining work with relaxation the past week.

Dulles and the President, who may stay here another week, talked over the turbulent world picture at the club.

A good part of their discussion dealt with the NATO Ministerial Council meeting which Dulles will attend in Paris starting Dec. 11. Referring to the Middle East Differences which put the United States in one camp and Britain and France in another over the Franco-British venture into Egypt, Dulles said in his prepared statement:

"Recent events have created some strain as between members of the North Atlantic Alliance. However, there have been constructive measures to overcome such differences as have existed, and the coming (NATO) council meeting affords an opportunity to rebuild a unity and it was at that point Dulles said a need for rebuilding has been 'tragically demonstrated' by Soviet action in Eastern Europe. And he added:

"There is compelling reason to make the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, within the area of its particular concern, a stronger and more effective body."

Asked to list "constructive measures" which have helped to resolve differences between the United States and the two other principal NATO nations, Britain and France, Dulles cited the cease-fire in Egypt, creation of the U. N. police force, and withdrawal of some British and French troops from Egypt.

Fullerton gained fame as a sportswriter, and was described by Conner as the one person who was chiefly responsible for breaking the notorious Chicago Black Sox World Series scandal in 1920.

Bryce Browning of New Philadelphia, secretary-treasurer of the Muskingum Conservancy District, eulogized Littick.

Littick was publisher of the Zanesville Signal and the Zanesville Times Recorder.

Browning praised Littick's work in helping establish the Muskingum Valley flood control program and for donating a great deal of his time, energy and money to other civic causes in Zanesville and eastern Ohio.

Bomb In Theater Injures 6 Persons

NEW YORK — A homemade bomb exploded with a burst of flame and smoke in a crowded Brooklyn movie theater Sunday night during a showing of "War and Peace." Six persons were injured.

Police said the bomb appeared to be the handiwork of the same "mad bomber" who has planted more than 25 other explosives in New York public places since 1940.

Sunday night's bomb was crudely fashioned of metal pipe, black powder, a small battery, watch parts and wiring. It exploded under a seat near the rear of the orchestra in the Paramount Theater.

About 1,500 patrons were viewing the battle-punctured film version of the Tolstoy novel at the time.

Metal fragments ripped across several rows of seats and cut three persons. Three others suffered shock.

The picture resumed after a few minutes.

persistent refusal of the Red Hungarians, backed by their Soviet allies, to permit U. N. representatives to cross their border. These delegates assert privately that the Hungarians and the Russians must be holding up their replies to Hammarstrand in the hope that, before outsiders get in, they can clean up evidence of the rebellion and the drastic measures used to crush it.

Before too much time passes, they say, the U. N. must be allowed to go into Hungary and do what it can for the suffering people, faced now by a cold winter and continued Soviet domination. The Western delegates say the least the U. N. can do is to bring as much moral pressure to bear on the Russians and Hungarians as possible and hope that a break will come.

More Than 100 Couples Attend Snow Ball Dance

More than 100 couples crowded the Romanian Hall Saturday night for the annual Snow Ball sponsored by the Salem Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Arnie Arnold's Orchestra played for the dancing.

The Jaycee committee which planned the public dance included Jack Rance, chairman, and Ed Maruca, co-chairman, Bruce Hack, John Stoita, Ross Joseph, Ed Butcher, George Ehrhart and Jim Harp.

Two Injured In Five Car Mishaps Here

Icy streets were mainly to blame for a series of five auto mishaps that happened on Salem streets over the weekend. Two persons were injured.

Mary Wilson, 71, of East Palestine, was treated at City hospital Sunday afternoon for back injuries and shock received in a collision at the intersection of Woodland Ave. and E. Pershing St. Sunday at 2:18 p.m.

Police said a car driven by Anna M. Keresty, 34, of East Palestine, collided with an auto operated by Carl Panetzot, 27, of 443 Woodland Ave. Wilson was a passenger in Keresty's auto.

Mrs. Minnie Popa, 66, of 450 Aetna St., received back and neck injuries in a collision between autos driven by her son, Arnold, 43, and Gary F. Rist, 17, of 445 Sharp Ave. The mishap occurred Saturday at 8:23 a.m. at the intersection of E. 3rd St. and N. Lincoln Ave. Mrs. Popa was treated at the Central Clinic and released.

Frances Martines, 26, of Leetonia was arrested for driving while intoxicated after his car struck a utility pole Sunday at 2:30 a.m. on Franklin Ave. near Summit St. He was fined $150 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail by Mayor Dean B. Crammer Sunday.

Elsie Myers, 23, of RD 4, Salem, and Robert Hooley, 19, of 775 S. Lundy Ave. were involved in a car collision Sunday at 1:56 p.m. on S. Broadway.

Joseph La Monica, 30, of 214 W. Wilson St. and Joshua Henderson, 65, of RD 3, Salem, escaped injury when their cars collided Sunday at 5:35 p.m. at the intersection of S. Ellsworth and Wilson St.

Federal Aid Sought To Enforce Integration In Clinton Schools

CLINTON, Tenn. — The Anderson County School Board asked the federal government today for help in enforcing racial integration at Clinton High School.

Otherwise, the board said, "it might become necessary to close" the school.

The board acted in an extraordinary 6:30 a.m., CST, session. In a letter to U. S. Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell the board declared:

"The School Board of Anderson County has conscientiously done all in its power to comply with the direction of the U. S. District Court in Knoxville, which ordered the integration last Jan. 4."

"This has been done, contrary to our convictions on the matter and in the face of constant criticism and harassment from our fellow citizens. . . . The Anderson County School Board must know whether the department of justice intends to continue lack of enforcement of the federal court injunction (against interfering with integration). If so, it might become necessary to close the Clinton High School so long as we are under order to abolish segregation."

Ten Negro pupils remaining of the dozen admitted under federal court orders this year have stayed away from school since last Tuesday. They demanded the board give them assurance of their personal safety.

The left school after rock and egg throwing incidents last Monday and Tuesday climaxed a series of acts of harassment by white pupils which had developed in recent weeks.

The admission of the Negroes among 800 white pupils Aug. 27 was followed by a week of increasing crowds and disorders, climaxed by arrival of state troopers and National Guardsmen on Labor Day weekend.

No new trouble of consequence developed after the Guard left, school officials said, until after John Kasper, 26, of Washington, D. C., was tried and acquitted on state charges growing out of his activities in stirring up opposition to the desegregation at school opening.

CONSTIPATED?

new laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon. A "thrifty" colon is one that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

TO REGAIN NORMAL REGULARITY two things are necessary. First, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it and so, excite its muscles to action; to a normal urge to purge.

ONLY A BULK LAXATIVE can 1) re-moisten this dry, shrunken waste and 2) supply vital bulk to re-create a normal urge to purge. And, of all bulk laxatives, COLONAD, the amazing new laxative discovery is so effective that it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, yet is so smooth, so gentle it has been proved safe even for women in the most critical stages of pregnancy.

SUPERIOR TO OLD STYLE bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAD neither gags, bloats nor gripes; does not interfere with your absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; and in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other side reactions.

IT'S A PHYSIOLOGICAL FACT: Exercise tones your body! And COLONAD exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Whether occasional, frequent or chronic, whatever your degree of constipation, get COLONAD, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! The price, only 98c for the economical 60 tablet package, brings you positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

Quaker Gridders Are Honored At Booster Club Banquet

Yeager Gets K. of C. Award

Ashland College Coach Is Speaker

By MARK MILLER

About 275 persons gathered at the annual Booster Club football banquet in the Memorial Building Saturday night to honor the 1956 High School team and coaching staff.

Quaker left end Roy Yeager received the Knights of Columbus Trophy, awarded each year to the Salem player with the highest scholastic record and outstanding athletic ability. The trophy was awarded on behalf of the K. of C. by Rev. Fr. John Cunningham, assistant pastor of St. Paul Church.

Besides their scholastic rating, candidates for the award must have played football for Salem four years. Last year's winner was Jack Alexander. Previous winners were: 1945, William Ward; 1946, Ray Snyder; 1947, Dan Crawford; 1948, Ken Ziegler and Tom Miner; 1950, Jim Callahan; 1951, Jim Cusack; 1952, Wayne Ickes; 1953, Gary Paxson; and 1954, Jim Beard.

An "old timer" at the banquets was there in another capacity Saturday night, as master of ceremonies. He is retired Salem High School football coach Ben Barrett.

BARRETT INTRODUCED football coach Earle Bruce, who completed his first year as head man here with a record of four wins and five losses.

Coach Bruce presented each of the 11 senior letter winners with a gold football on behalf of the Booster Club. Graduating seniors are: Tom Foreman, Dale Swartz, Bill Schuster, co-captain Tom Alesi, co-captain Ted Jackson, Larry Heper, Fred Jensen, Roy Yeager, Joe Bryan, Roy Henderson and Fred Stewart.

Bruce commented briefly on the team's record, saying, "I have never met a finer group of gentlemen on or off the field." He said, "I will remember this year's team because of the sportsmanship they displayed while winning and losing."

Bruce complimented the administration, the band, cheerleaders, and the athletic director for their work during the season.

Bruce also introduced and praised his coaching staff.

John Cabas, who was in charge of the backfield, introduced the players.

VINCE CRAWFORD, in charge of developing the tackles, introduced them.

Sam Priddy, varsity end coach, and head freshman football coach, introduced his freshman squad and the varsity ends.

Karl Zellers, in charge of the guards and centers and reserve football coach, introduced the boys on the squad.

This year's two co-captains, Bill Schuster and Tom Alesi, presented Bruce with a gift on behalf of the team.

Head trainer Ben Barrett Jr. presented Fred Cope with a gift on behalf of the managers.

HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETIC Director Fred Cope introduced Joan Frank, the 1956 football queen and her court, Joyce Bailey, Carolyn Lewis, Carolyn Paxson, Gunhild Nyberg, Miriam Smith, and Helen Potter.

Cope also introduced head varsity cheerleader Joan Frank, who introduced the varsity and reserve cheerleaders. Varsity cheerleaders are Betsy Rice, Bobbie Lou Wilms, Beverly Mercer, Joyce Bailey and Judy Decrow. Reserve cheerleaders are Mary Lou Menichelli, Mary Lukanus, Bonnie Reese, Darla Barnes and Mary Leone.

Superintendent of Salem Schools E. S. Kerr addressed the crowd briefly and lauded the Booster Club spirit in regard to high school sports.

Barrett then introduced the main speaker, Bob Brownson, coach of Ashland College. Brownson discussed his experiences both at Portsmouth High School, and Ashland College.

BROWNSON ADROITLY mixed light humor with serious remarks to keep the attention of his audience throughout his address.

The speaker stressed the value in future life of the training one gets in participating in football and other school sports, citing fairness, competitiveness as outstanding traits.

Brownson also stated that a good education goes hand in hand with sports and said it was unwise to indulge in sports at the expense of gaining academic training.

Visiting coaches were Lou Pelini, East Liverpool; Ed Strauss, East Liverpool; Butch Wise of Youngstown Chaney, graduate of Salem High School 1944 where he played football and basketball; Carl Pelusi, Youngstown Chaney; and Jerry Thorne, Boardman.

Booster Club President John Sebo welcomed the guests and introduced the incoming officers of the Booster Club.

On the banquet committee were Powell Schmauch, John Holzworth, Fred Cope, Bob Conroy, Tim Hoppes, John Pastier, Dr. G. F. Jones, Gail Dougherty and James Jackson.

SCENES AT THE FOOTBALL BANQUET—Eleven seniors, at top, who will graduate this year received gold footballs from Earle Bruce, head football coach, on behalf of the Boosters club at the Boosters football banquet Saturday night.

Roy Yeager (above) receives congratulations from Rev. Fr. John Cunningham, as he is presented the K. of C. trophy.

Cage Opener Here To Be Delayed By Gym Floor Work

Salem High School's first basketball game of the 1956-1957 season, scheduled for Tuesday, Dec. 11, on the home floor, will be played in the Columbiana High School gymnasium Wednesday, Dec. 12 instead. Season tickets and student association tickets will be honored as though the game were in Salem. The reserve game will start at 7 p.m.

The disappointment of Salem fans in not seeing the season opener on the home floor can be tempered with the knowledge that permitting the new gymnasium floor to "season" for a couple of weeks will result in a better playing surface in years to come. Athletic Director Fred Cope said.

Delays in construction have forced several revisions in the work schedule and even though the floor is now completely laid and ready for sanding and finishing, the "seasoning" period moves the final completion date to approximately Dec. 21, he said.

The home opener now becomes the game with Akron Garfield on Dec. 28. Cope said he, Superintendent E. S. Kerr, and Head Coach John Cabas considered the problem from all angles before deciding to delay the Struthers game and reschedule it.

The new gymnasium floor at Salem High School will last longer and provide a better playing surface because of the schedule change.

Thaden, Miss Merick Lead Bowling Tourney

CHICAGO (U)—Two veteran kelpers—Stan Thaden of Chicago and Marge Merick of Detroit—have taken the lead at the halfway point of qualifying trials for the 16th annual National All-Star bowling tournament.

Thaden rolled 1,305 Sunday to give him a 12-game total of 2,544, 31 pins better than James Spalding of Fern Creek, Ky. Miss Merick had only a 10-pin bulge over Jere Watson Price, Ft. Worth, Tex., in the women's division. She fired 818 Sunday for an eight-game total of 1,584.

The 160 men in the field are aiming for 46 places in the semi-finals, and 14 in the finals, while 64 women are battling for the same number of semi-final and final places in their division.

The scheduled home games are Struthers, Akron Garfield, New Philadelphia, Girard, Wellsville, Youngstown South, Boardman, and Ashland.

The season tickets will sell for $6.00, and individual tickets will cost 75 cents.

Big 10 Teams Face Severe Tests Tonight

By JOE MOOSHIL The Associated Press

Following a shaky start Saturday night, Big Ten teams should run into real trouble tonight in four matches.

Facing the toughest task are Northwestern's Wildcats who move into Kansas where Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain will make his debut.

Northwestern opened Saturday night with a crushing 99-60 triumph over Western Michigan but whether the Wildcats can accomplish as much against Chamberlain and Co. is questionable.

Ohio State and Michigan also turned in easy victories Saturday but Wisconsin and Michigan State went down in defeat and Purdue and Minnesota barely scraped through.

Ohio State bowled over Butler, 96-82; Michigan beat Delaware, 79-68; Purdue edged Evansville 62-60, and Minnesota squeezed past Vanderbilt, 63-60.

Michigan State dropped a 60-53 decision to Iowa State and Wisconsin was victimized by South Dakota, 58-56, in an overtime.

Iowa's defending Big Ten champions open against Nebraska tonight with Pitt at Ohio State and Wisconsin at Butler in addition to the Northwestern-Kansas fracas.

Indiana opens its season at home against Valparaiso Tuesday and Illinois is home to Butler in its opener Wednesday.

Michigan State, considered a "dark horse" contender for the Big Ten title, couldn't get started against the Cyclones. Iowa State went ahead, 6-0, and never was headed.

Wisconsin blew a 29-26 halftime lead and were ahead by seven points before South Dakota battled to a 49-49 tie at the end of regulation time. Cliff Daniels popped in three baskets in the overtime to pace South Dakota's triumph.

Footballer Lamar Lundy's basket with 5 seconds to play enabled the Boilermakers to push aside Evansville, the defending Indiana Conference champion, Purdue had to overcome a 33-25 Purple lead at halftime.

Minnesota overcame a 34-36 halftime deficit to beat Vanderbilt. George Kline pumped in 19 points to pace the Gopher attack while Jed Dommeyer added 17.

All-Mid-American Grid Team Named

DAYTON, Ohio (U)—Mid-American Conference coaches, meeting here over the weekend, selected their all-conference football teams. Two of the first team stars, Kenny Russell of Fostoria, Bowling Green tackle, and Tom Dimitroff of Barberton, Miami quarterback were on the 1955 all-conference team.

Fullback—George Templin, Marshall.

Fans Go Wild As Browns Defeat Eagles 17-14; Groza Wins Tilt

By FRITZ HOWELL CLEVELAND (U)—If you think high school or college football fans are frenzied folk, you should have seen the snowballing, booing backers of the Browns Sunday.

The Cleveland pros defeated the Philadelphia Eagles 17-14 for their fourth win in 10 starts—but all that was incidental to the sideshow put on by the partisans.

They threw snowballs at the officials and the Eagles. They booed the whistle-blowers and the Philadelphia fans. The officials retaliated by marching off a 15-yard and two 5-yard penalties against the Browns, two of which got the Eagles out of trouble.

"I guess I've officiated 800 football games and it's the first time something like that has ever happened," said referee Tom Timlin. "That booing was an unfortunate thing and it certainly was unfair to the Eagles."

Coach Paul Brown, to whom victories have been a rather rare thing this season after two straight National League championships and 10 straight division titles, summed up the day with: "It was just a weird afternoon. So many odd things happened that they took some of the thrill out of winning."

Paul said he'd rather not comment on the deportment of the fans, or the officiating.

Adding to the hilarity and confusion were the facts the field was slippery, a drizzling rain fell through most of the contest, and the lights had to be turned on for the last half.

Tommy O'Connell, the Browns' rookie quarterback, threw passes for both Brown touchdowns, giving his team a 14-7 lead after the Eagles had taken the opening kickoff 44 yards in eight plays for a score, with quarterback Bobbie Thomason squaring a yard for the 6-point.

The Eagles Ken Keller romped 20 yards around end to tie it at 14-14 early in the third period, and it stayed that way until only 29 seconds of the game were left.

At that point the Eagles made the mistake of incurring a personal foul, and the 15-yard penalty moved the ball to their own 30. Lou Groza wrapped it up, 17-14, for the Browns, with his 10th field goal of the season from the 37-yard line.

Title Bout Sought For Cleveland Arena

CLEVELAND — The winner of the Ray (Sugar) Robinson - Gene Fullmer world's middleweight championship match that will be waged at New York's Madison Square Garden Wednesday, Dec. 12, can get $75,000 to defend the 160-pound title against the victor of the Joey Giardello - Rory Calhoun bout that will headline the 31st Annual News Toyshop Fund Boxing Show at the Cleveland Arena on Friday, Dec. 14.

That's the concrete offer made by Matchmaker Larry Atkins to the respective camps of Robinson and Fullmer in long distance telephone conversations in the past 48 hours.

In answer to Atkins' attractive offer, Robinson, personally, requested that the promoter "put it in black and white" and accordingly Atkins confirmed the offer by telegram.

Atkins' proposal calls for the titular shot to be held at the Cleveland Arena on Wednesday, April 17, 1957, the night after the baseball opener.

"I have already talked to the pilots of Giardello and Calhoun and they both will bend backward to get a crack at the title," Atkins revealed.

The matchmaker also disclosed that both Robinson and Fullmer have tentatively agreed to come here to attend the Giardello-Calhoun melee, which, incidentally, will not be televised, so the 160-pound king on Dec. 16 will have to be at the Arena in person if he wants to get a line on his future challenger.

The other 10-rounder on the bill pits Yama Bahama against Jimmy Martinez. A trio of 6-round frays and a like number of fours completes the card that will start at 8 o'clock.

Boxing Assn. Blasts Louisiana Segregation

CHICAGO (U)—The National Boxing Assn. Sunday condemned the Louisiana Sports Segregation Act as "completely repugnant to the spirit of America."

The NBA Executive Committee urged the Louisiana State Athletic Commission "to prevail upon the State Legislature to repeal this iniquitous statute."

The resolution stated that "unless in the forthcoming session of the Louisiana Legislature the law is repealed, the National Boxing Assn. will recommend upon all boxers and managers under NBA jurisdiction to refuse to participate in any boxing or wrestling competition in the state of Louisiana under such offensive law."

Wilt The Stilt To Make Debut For Kansas

By MIKE RATHET The Associated Press

Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain, already dubbed "another Bill Russell," makes his long-awaited varsity debut tonight as Kansas kicks off its campaign to end San Francisco's two-year domination of the national college basketball championship.

With Russell and his sidekick K. C. Jones lost to San Francisco via graduation, Kansas is given an excellent chance of moving to the top.

Chamberlain, a 7-foot-1 center, is just the guy who can help. He set all sorts of high school records in Philadelphia, then continued the same pace as a freshman at Kansas last year.

Northwestern will furnish the Kansas opposition tonight.

Other top attractions tonight: Oregon State vs. Colorado, Iowa vs. Nebraska, Pitt vs. Ohio State, Wisconsin vs. Butler, Kansas State vs. Texas Tech, Houston vs. Iowa State and The Citadel vs. William and Mary.

San Francisco won its second game of the year Saturday by defeating California 70-56. The victory was the Dons' second of the campaign and 57th in a row. Supposedly weakened by the loss of Russell and Jones, they nevertheless showed they're still to be reckoned with.

Other top-flight teams came through with victories Saturday. Louisville, National Invitation Tournament champions, beat Morehead 81-68 with the Cards' Charlie Tyra scoring 29 points. Adolph Rupp's heralded Wildcats of Kentucky easily topped Washington Lee 94-66. North Carolina State defeated Pittsburgh 97-85.

Duquesne, without a potential All America in the class of the graduated Slingo Green, showed on adept offense in stopping Florida State 70-55. The St. Louis Billikins opened with a 91-73 victory over Cincinnati.

Ohio State Faces Tough Pitt Tonight

COLUMBUS, Ohio (U)—Ohio State, easy 98-82 winner over Butler University's Basketball team here Saturday night, faces a sterner foe in the University of Pittsburgh here tonight.

Frank Howard and Ken Sidle scored 23 points each for the Bucks Saturday night in OSU's first game in the new St. John Arena.

Ezzard Charles Quits Professional Boxing

CINCINNATI (U)—Ezzard Charles says family and business commitments made him decide to step out of the ring.

He said Sunday night that he had wired his manager, Tom Tanas, earlier in the day that he was giving up boxing.

"I've got too many irons in the fire now," said Charles, 34-year-old former heavyweight king.

Australia's 800-Meter Relay Swim Team Beats Yanks

U.S. Girls Lead Diving Events

American Women Advance In Swimming

By TED SMITS

MELBOURNE (AP) — Australia's powerful 800-meter freestyle relay team beat Uncle Sam's men swimmers out of today's only Olympic gold medal as American women advanced in the diving and swimming competition with brilliant performances in qualifying competition.

The American men finished second to the Aussies in the relay event with Russia third and picked up one point in the unofficial team standings.

At the close of the day, the United States still held the lead over Russia in the unofficial point standings, 468-419½ after a readjustment in the wrestling points. But the Russians were gaining in the women's gymnastic events, where Russia was first and Hungary second after the first day's competition.

A trio of American girls, led by Mrs. Pat McCormick of Lakewood, Calif., a double champion in 1952, led the field in the women's springboard diving event.

Shelley Mann of Arlington, Va., broke the world's record with a one minute 11.2 seconds victory in a qualifying heat in the 100-meter butterfly event and two American girls, Carin Cone of Ridgewood, N. Y., and Margaret Edwards of Portland, Ore., moved into the finals in the 100-meter backstroke event.

Australia's men's relay team set a new world's record of 8:23.6, with the United States clocked in 8:31.5 and Russia in 8:34.7. The Olympic mark was set by the U. S. in 1952 at 8:31.1.

Members of the victorious Aussie team were Kevin O'Halloran, John Devitt, Murray Rose and John Henricks. Swimming for the U. S. were Dick Hanley, Evanson, Ill., George Breen, Buffalo, N. Y., and two Hawaiians, Bill Woolsey of Oahu and Ford Konno of Honolulu.

Mrs. McCormick, who won both the platform and springboard diving crowns at Helsinki in 1952, led all the way in the qualifying competition for women in the springboard event. She scored an impressive total of 76.80 points in six dives. Canada's Irene MacDonald was second with 73.25.

Barbara Gilders of Detroit, a 19-year-old diver from the Detroit Athletic Club, was third, with 71.47 points and Jeanne Stunyo, a 20-year-old University of Detroit student from Gary, Ind., was fourth with 71.02.

In addition to Miss Mann's record-breaking performance in the 100-meter butterfly, Nancy Jane Ramey, 16, of Mercer Island, Wash., and Mary Jane Sears of Chevy Chase, Md., also qualified for Wednesday's finals.

Masaru Furukawa of Japan broke the old Olympic record in qualifying for the 200-meter breaststroke in 2:36.1.

Robert Hughes of Los Angeles, the lone U.S. entrant in the men's 200-meter breaststroke finished sixth and did not qualify. He also played on the water polo team, which defeated Germany 4-3.

The finals in women's springboard diving and men's 400-meter free-style in which George Breen is the only qualifier will be held Tuesday.

In fencing, the U.S. sabre team was eliminated after drawing a first round bye.

The U.S. 2,000-meter tandem pair in cycling finished second in a first round race and went into the repechages (second chance). James Rossi of Chicago and Don Ferguson of Los Angeles were the two riders.

In Greco-Roman wrestling where the U.S. was competing for the first time, flyweight John Wilson of Washington, Pa., survived the first round and bantamweight Jent Townley of Sioux City, Ia., and welterweight James Holt of Oakland, Calif., drew byes.

Dale Thomas of East Lansing, Mich., moved ahead in the light-heavyweight class.

The United States' women gymnasts were in eighth place, far behind the Russians after the completion of the four compulsory exercises.

Lowellville Rolls Over Poland 70-61

Lowellville used the free throw line to defeat Poland 70-61, at Lowellville Saturday night as the Rockets registered their second straight triumph. It was the opener for the Bulldogs.

Poland outscored Lowellville from the field, 26-25, but the Rockets converted 20 of 26 fouls and the Bulldogs sank nine of 16.

Al Smith had 19 and Eugene Slaven 18 for Lowellville. Tony Archibald paced Poland with 21 markers. Poland took the reserve game 61-26.

Hollywood, Calif.—Lou Filippo, 139, Los Angeles, outpointed Kid Castro, 136, Manila, 10.

PHOTO FINISH—Lou Jones, right, of New Rochelle, N.Y., and Canada's Tobacco (B) hit the tape in an apparent dead-heat in the 1st heat of the 1,600-meter relay at the Olympic Games. Canada was awarded 1st place and the U.S. 2nd, in the same time of three minutes, 10.5 seconds.

Clemson's selection for the Orange Bowl leaves only a belated windup game between unbeaten Miami (Fla.) before college football moves into its final postseason phase.

Local Saxons Beat Canton Team 66-50

The Salem Saxon basketball team defeated the Canton Saxons 66-50 in a contest played at Canton Saturday.

The local cagers jumped off to a 17-9 lead and never relinquished it.

Mark Klein and Ed Stefane paced the victors with 16 and 19 points, respectively. Krauss, Haidet and Schleffer each netted eight markers for the losers.

The game marked the first win for the locals against two defeats. Next Saturday the Salem team will play the Old Timers at Salem Junior High School.

Olympic Highlights

MELBOURNE (AP) — Pete Rade-macher, the big Army lieutenant from Grandview, Wash., whose first-round knockout of Russian heavyweight Lev Moukhine provided one of the big thrills of the Olympic boxing finals, was told by doctors a few weeks ago to forget about fighting.

After competing in the Olympic trials in the United States, the 28-year-old heavyweight developed a blood clot in his right bicep. "In the hospital, the doctors told me to forget about the Games," he said. "They said I would have to lay off at least six months. But my arm improved and I decided to give it a go."

There is no doubt about the individual standouts of the Games. The honors go to Texas Bobby Morrow, the first sprinter since Jesse Owens in 1936 to win three gold medals; Vladimir Kouts, Russia's double winner (5,000 and 10,000 meter runs); and Betty Cuthbert, Australia's 18-year-old whirlwind, winner of three women's sprint medals.

Pretty Paula Jean Myers of Glendora, Calif., hopes to beat reigning queen Pat McCormick in the platform diving event Thursday by outshining her in her own specialties.

"In the free diving phase of the competition, Pat and I have chosen exactly the same dives," Paula Jean said. "I know that to beat her, I must be much better on every dive because in a close contest the vote always goes to the champion. But I think my chances are good."

Paul Anderson, the 310-pound Olympic and world weightlifting champion from Cocoa, Ga., says he has had many attractive offers to become a professional wrestler.

"I am sure I could go into the business and do well," said the world's strongest man, "but wrestling doesn't interest me, so I guess I will continue lifting weights."

Pitt, looking forward to a rematch of last year's 7-0 Sugar Bowl loss to Georgia Tech, need not worry about the one-tel Hurricane in their nationally televised meeting.

Whatever happens, the Panthers are signed for a Dec. 29 date with Tech in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla.

After a week postponement, the Atlantic Coast Conference chose its champion, Clemson, late Sunday to represent it against Colorado in the Orange Bowl.

That left the major bowl picture as follows:

Rose — Iowa (8-1) vs. Oregon State (7-2-1).

Sugar — Tennessee (10-0) vs. Baylor (8-2).

Cotton — Syracuse (7-1) vs. Texas Christian (7-3).

Orange — Colorado (7-2-1) vs. Clemson (7-1-2).

Gator — Georgia Tech (9-1) vs. Pittsburgh (6-2-1).

Clemson got the nod to fill the last opening after defeating Furman 28-7.

The bowl situation, long entangled, crystallized quickly once last Saturday's results were in.

Tennessee's completion of a perfect season with a 27-7 victory over Vanderbilt brought from the Vols an official acceptance of a Sugar Bowl invitation.

The New Orleans bowl officials, handicapped by the Louisiana law forbidding interracial athletic competition, happily struck a bonanza when their other prime candidate, Baylor, walloped Rice 46-13.

The Cotton Bowl fingered Syracuse when its first choice, Navy, turned down the bid moments after being held to a 7-7 tie by underdog Army. Texas Christian, 21-6 conqueror of Southern Methodist, had been established as the host team a week earlier. Southwest Conference champion Texas A & M is ineligible because of NCAA restrictions for recruiting.

Oklahoma posted its 40th consecutive victory, 53-0, over Oklahoma A & M but the Sooners can't go bowling because the Big Seven conference tieup with the Orange Bowl does not allow successive year appearances.

Georgia Tech, beaten only by Tennessee 6-0, accepted the Gator offer after rocking Georgia 35-0. Pitt was idle.

Brennan-Leahy Feud Appears Dissolved

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Notre Dame's scrappy showing in losing Saturday to the University of Southern California, 28-20, appears to have dissolved the personal row between coach Terry Brennan and Frank Leahy.

Former Notre Dame coach Leahy told a newsmen last week that the fighting Irish, whose season record of 2-3 is their worst, had lost their will to win.

Leahy said after the game: "They played like a real Notre Dame team—I am proud of them."

Said Brennan, Leahy's successor as coach: "My team never quit hitting and fighting, right down to the wire."

Brennan said the feud may have been caused by his refusal to permit backfield ace Paul Hornung to appear on Leahy's television program Friday night. Brennan said he wanted Hornung to concentrate on the Trojan game.

Leahy said that, as a former coach, he understood, and Brennan said:

"There is certainly nothing personal between us."

Pro football clutch players like Frank Gifford and Bobby Layne aren't paid by the yards they gain or the touchdowns they score. But when the National Football League moguls lay out the big salaries, they expect the "big play" and the "big game."

Sunday was divided day around the circuit as the key veterans paid off aplenty.

Layne, an eight-year veteran, passed for two touchdowns, scored another and kicked six extra points as he quarterbacked the Detroit Lions into first place in the Western Conference with a smashing 42-10 victory over the Chicago Bears.

Gifford, former movie stunt man, scored three times and threw for the other Giant touchdown as New York all but clinched the Eastern Conference title by whipping the Washington Redskins 28-14.

Elsewhere in the loop, here's what other old pros did:

Tobin Rote, the Green Bay signal caller, scored three times on short sneaks after his passes had riddled the Chicago Cardinals in a 24-20 upset victory. The loss at Chicago all but eliminated the Cards from the Eastern race.

Lou (The Toe) Groza, an all-time great, kicked a 37-yard field goal with just 29 seconds remaining at Cleveland to lift the Browns to a 17-14 triumph over the Philadelphia Eagles.

Capt. Elbie Nickel, with 3 years and 12 pro seasons behind him, steadied young Jack Scar-bath in his first quarterback start, receiving two passes from Scarbath to lead the Pittsburgh Steelers in a 30-13 defeat of the visiting Los Angeles Rams.

A pair of 28-year-olds with a total of 13 years NFL experience did the job for the San Francisco 49ers at Baltimore 20-17. End Billy Wilson twice took scoring passes from quarterback Y. A. Tittle. The second was a 77-yard play in which Wilson hurdled two Baltimore tacklers and went on to score. The loss eliminated the Colts from the Western race.

Wallace To Battle Anthony Tonight

By The Associated Press

Gordon Wallace, aggressive Toronto battler, will take on Tony Anthony, classy performer from the Harlem section of New York, in a 10-round main event at Madison Square Garden Friday night, and the winner will have taken a big step toward a shot at the light-heavyweight championship.

The lanky Anthony risks a winning streak that has reached five straight. Wallace has won six consecutive fights. His last bout this year was for the British Empire light-heavyweight title, and he defeated Ron Barton in 15 rounds in that one.

Eddie Machen, unbeaten Redding, Calif., heavyweight, makes his Eastern debut in a 10-rounder against Johnny Summerlin of Detroit at the Syracuse, N. Y., War Memorial Stadium Wednesday night.

In his last start, Oct. 24, Machen scored his seventh straight knockout, adding Johnny Holman to a list of victims that includes Nino Valdes and Julio Mederos, each twice.

Another victory string will be periled Monday night in St. Nicholas Arena, New York, when New York heavyweight Wayne Bethea takes on Zora Foley of Phoenix. Bethea has won seven in a row.

Havana—Oscar Suarez, 116½, Cuba, outpointed Roque Fernandez, 113½, Mexico, 10.

PCC To Liberalize Aid For Athletes

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Liberalized financial aid for football players and other athletes in the Pacific Coast Conference was assured today and the threat of UCLA and Southern California withdrawing dimmed.

The powerful Presidents' Council of the nine member schools made recommendations Sunday which also indicated powers granted to the commissioner might be reduced.

The executive council of the UCLA Alumni Assn. last week recommended that immediate steps be taken to withdraw UCLA from the PCC. Individual alumni of USC had expressed similar sentiments.

Following Sunday's session, President Robert Gordon Sprout of the University of California, council chairman, said the question of withdrawal did not come up officially.

"I'm optimistic there will be no withdrawals," he said.

The proposed aid program would be based on an individual's need. Under the proposal an athlete can receive a tuition grant-in-aid, as under the present rules. His needs in regard to board, books and laundry would be determined by an independent agency.

During the off-season he would have an on-campus job at prevailing rates which would allow him to contribute to his requirements.

Kingston, Jamaica — Rudolph Bent, 151½, British Honduras, outpointed Jimmy Ford, 149, Miami, Fla., 10.

New Homes Follow Desires Of Women's Housing Congress

By DAVID G. BAREUTHER
AP Real Estate Editor

Three houses of special interest to every family planning on building a new home are scheduled to be opened for exhibit at Munster, Ind., near Chicago on Dec. 10. They have been built to demonstrate the major requirements laid down by the famous Women's Congress on Housing in Washington last April.

Sponsored by the National Retail Lumber Dealers Assn., these houses were designed with the assistance of Miss Annabelle Heath, originator of the Women's Congress idea. They have not been built for sale and will not be finally disposed of until some time next year after builders, manufacturers and the public have had time to study them.

They indicate the far reaching effect of the complete Women's Congress report, recently published by the Housing & Home Finance Agency. Of course, no one claims they are the final word in popularity, but they include 50 of the basic features the housewife delegates said they wanted in their homes.

IN ACCORDANCE with the majority vote of that congress, the three Munster houses have three bedrooms, one and one-half baths, a family room in addition to living room, either a separate dining room or a dining area, rear kitchen, generous closet space, and utility room or basement with laundry.

Although the 103 women overwhelmingly went on record as favoring a one-story house, one of the three models is a split level, containing 1,992 square feet in order to include a maximum of the housewives' preferences. The others are one-story homes, covering 1,418 and 1,623 square feet. One is a brick veneer house with a basement, another is built with trusses and Lu-Re-Co panels pre-assembled in the lumber yard.

Each of these models conforms to the women's ideas by having two separate zones — an informal living area in the rear where a family can work and relax in private, and a formal or public area in front on the street side.

In each, the bedrooms are isolated from the noisy part of the house, so that older children in the family room will not disturb youngsters sleeping, or parents reading in the living room.

Rooms are arranged so there will be a minimum of family traffic through the living room and dining room. The half-bath or lavatory is adjacent to the backdoor to make it easy to clean up before entering the house.

PLANS FOR ALL of the houses are being made available through local lumber dealers. The architects were Edward Marks of Evanston, Ill., James Petridge of Palmdale, Calif., and Edwin Bruno of Skokie, Ill.

Miss Heath, who is assistant to Administrator Albert Cole of the Housing & Home Finance Agency in Washington, and Joseph H. Orndorff, technical advisor to HFA, assisted the architects in interpreting the women's ideas.

Completion of the houses has been scheduled to coincide with the Building Products Exposition being held in Chicago by the National Retail Lumber Dealers Assn. Paul V. DeVille of Canton, Ohio, chairman of the organization's committee for this project, supervised construction which was carried out by the Lakeshore Realty Co. of Whiting, Ind.

Incidentally, copies of the 82-page report on the Women's Congress on Housing can now be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C. for 60 cents — not stamps.

Accents Of Wood Gain In Popularity In Modern Homes

Striking evidence of the ever-growing popularity of wood paneling is seen in the planning of architects and home builders. This is a reflection of the demands of today's homemakers. Leafing through the home service sections of popular magazines one finds page after page of projects involving increased use of exposed wood indoors, and novel treatments outside.

Because of their durability and versatility, the woods of the western pine region are popular choices for ceilings, wall paneling, and horizontal and vertical siding.

A recent model home incorporated a large open terrace that had one wall in common with the living room. Both the interior and exterior sections of this wall were of narrow strips of lodgepole pine finished in the same way for both areas. This gives a feeling of unity, even though a glass wall intersects the pine wall to separate the two areas.

The variety of uses for wood seems endless. Exposed beams in the ceiling are very much in vogue. Wall paneling is seen in ever new applications — diagonal and vertical patterns. Wherever you look in all sections of the country, rich natural wood is in greater evidence.

AN EXPANSION ATTIC offers the most economical way to enlarge a house. Mere finishing of extra rooms usually does the job. This house, covering only 1,200 square feet without garage, has space for three additional bedrooms and an extra bathroom upstairs, adding 835 square feet of floor space. This is plan B-2967AP by Alvin Cassens Jr., architect, 145 So. Franklin Ave., Valley Stream, N.Y.

Home Repair Dos, Don'ts

FIXING A DOORBELL
AP Newsfeatures

DO . . . when a doorbell fails to ring, check the pushbutton first — because that is where the trouble nearly always is.

DO . . . see that the two wires connected to the pushbutton are securely fastened to the terminal screws.

DO . . . if the wires are connected properly, touch both terminal screws at the same time with the blade of a screwdriver.

DO . . . know that something is wrong with the pushbutton if, during this screwdriver test, the bell rings; if it fails to ring, the trouble is with the source of supply (batteries or transformer), the bell or the wire.

DON'T . . . be afraid to work around the pushbutton while the electricity is turned on, since the voltage needed to make a bell ring is so low as to be harmless.

DON'T . . . in any inspection of a transformer, touch the primary terminals, which are on the side of the transformer leading to the fuse box.

DON'T . . . forget that when bell wire needs replacing — and it runs through a wall or floor — attach the new to the old and pull it through.

DON'T . . . when the bell itself is at fault, neglect to look for loose connections or dirty contacts.

Arizona Begins Big Drive To End Polio

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Operation Teen-ager—aimed at cutting down the high incidence of polio among Arizona's youngsters—starts Tuesday with the first of a series of citywide mass vaccinations. It is the first such program in the nation.

Dr. Clarence G. Salsbury, state health commissioner, said some 5,000 students at Phoenix Union High School will be the first to receive the free shots. Later, some 15,000 youngsters at 23 schools in Phoenix and Maricopa County will be eligible to participate.

Free shots will be given to anyone from 6 months to 19 years, but the main objective is teenagers.

More than 40 per cent of Arizona's polio cases last year were among teenagers and young adults. A recent survey showed 75 per cent of the county's teenagers had not received inoculations.

Some Key Figures Still See Conspiracy To Bury Full Facts

Is Pearl Harbor Truth Still Hidden?

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Fifteen years after the disaster of Pearl Harbor some of the key figures still insist that a successful conspiracy has kept the full facts from the American public.

Some, like Adm. Husband E. Kimmel, who was head of the Pacific fleet and now is retired at Groton, Conn., believe that the full story eventually will be told.

"The real facts exist in personal diaries which have been kept by persons who know the facts and human vanity will eventually force them to light," he says hopefully.

On the other hand former Sen. Homer Ferguson, who served on the joint Pearl Harbor congressional investigating committee and is now a judge of the U.S. Court of Appeals, thinks that the full story will never be told.

"The truth of how the Roosevelt Administration egged the Japanese into launching the attack has died forever with Franklin D. Cordell Hull and Henry L. Stimson," Judge Ferguson insists, "and those still alive, like Gen. Marshall, will never tell all they know."

THOSE PERSONS who figured prominently in the disastrous events of Pearl Harbor AND ARE still alive were interviewed all over the U.S. for this review on the 15th anniversary of the event. Some had new information to offer. Most of them agree with Judge Ferguson.

During the past year, however, a book called "The Cause of Japan," written by Shigenori Togo, the wartime foreign minister of Japan, does shed important new light on the attack. Togo finished the book while in prison as a war criminal and died a few years later. A key section of his book says:

"It was disclosed at the (war crimes trial) that the naval task force under Admiral Nagumo had sailed on 26 November under orders to strike Pearl Harbor. We (the civilian Japanese officials) had, of course, no knowledge of the plan; it was the invariable practice of the high command not to divulge to civilian officials any scrap of information bearing on these highly secret operations."

If this is true the actions of top officials in Washington can be better understood. The key Japanese messages decoded in Washington, which commanders at Pearl Harbor never got but claim would have alerted them for action, were all sent by Togo.

The logical question thus raised is this: If the sender of the intercepted messages himself didn't know of the impending attack on Pearl Harbor how could Washington have deduced that from the messages?

ADM. HAROLD R. STARK, then Chief of Naval Operations and today retired on his Pennsylvania farm, supports the oft-repeated claim that the intercepted messages did not give a positive clue to the attack on Pearl Harbor.

"I have explored this question in my mind hundreds of times," he says, "and I can only conclude that I sent Adm. Kimmel all of the information he needed to have to keep him as well informed of events as we were in Washington."

The item which raises the question of Togo's accuracy — and Stark's judgment — is cited by Adm. Kimmel. It's this message from Togo to a Japanese agent in Honolulu sent Nov. 18, 1941, intercepted and decoded in Washington:

"Please report on the following areas as to vessels anchored there-in: Area N, Pearl Harbor, Mammala Bay (Honolulu), and the areas adjacent thereto. Make your investigations with great secrecy."

"This information was never supplied me," Adm. Kimmel states. The message strongly suggests that Togo was in on the Pearl Harbor plan, too. But this now becomes another one of the controversies which remain unsolved 15 years later.

ANOTHER MOOT QUESTION is why Gen. Marshall's warning to Pearl Harbor, sent early enough on Dec. 7 to at least have provided time to prepare the guns for the attack, was given to Western Union instead of the Signal Corps. The message was handed by Gen. Marshall to Col. Edward F. French but arrived after the attack had started.

Col. French, retired in Washington, explains:

"Static was so bad our communications men had lost Honolulu so I gave it to Western Union to handle. This had been done previously on other messages and worked fine. Gen. Gerow is the man who knows all about this."

Gen. Leonard T. Gerow was assistant chief of staff of the Army at the time and blamed for neglect in a minority congressional report on Pearl Harbor. He is now a banker in Petersburg, Va.

"Col. French did what was right," Gen. Gerow insists today. "But I have always said that if it is ever shown that my staff made any mistakes I was willing to assume all blame."

In the same category of moot questions is the reason why the young Air Corps Lt. Kermit A. Tyler ignored the warning of approaching Jap bombers spotted on radar by Pvt. Joe Lockard. Tyler is a lieutenant colonel at Ent Air Force Base, Colorado Springs, today. He recalls:

"DRIVING TO THE information center at Pearl Harbor before that morning I flipped on the local radio station playing Hawaiian music with no voice interruptions and recalled that the station served as a homing beacon when flights of B-17s were coming in. So when I got the radar report later, I assumed it was those B-17s. I had no way of knowing these were enemy aircraft."

And so it remains, 15 years later.

The bitterness of those who have felt that they were unjustly accused, or that top officials in Washington deliberately provoked the attack to get the U.S. into World War II has now softened.

For example, Judge Ferguson now believes that President Roosevelt wanted the Japs to strike the first blow but had no idea that it would be as devastating as it turned out to be. Adm. Kimmel feels the same way.

"We can only hope and pray that our top military officials have learned a lesson from Pearl Harbor that sticks with them today," atomic age the errors of judgment which caused the Pearl Harbor disaster would spell the end of America."

Buy stocks NOW ...or wait?

At any time, in any market, there are stocks that are a good buy ... but their prospects differ. Some stocks may promise capital growth — others, attractive dividends. Also, at the same time, there are some stocks that we'd advise you not to buy, if you asked us.

It ultimately depends on you, doesn't it? How much do you want to invest? Why do you want to invest — for capital growth or for dividend income?

Let's get together and talk it over. No obligation, of course.

Scioto County Still Without Phone Service

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A strongly-worded message from the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. to Gov. Frank J. Lausche Sunday left little hope of soon restoring telephone service in the Portsmouth area.

Clare E. Williams, president of the company, renewed his plea to Lausche to "restore law and order" in Scioto County.

The telegram crushed hopes that the company might accept assurances of Portsmouth city officials that there would be adequate local protection of company equipment and personnel in the event emergency service is established.

"Local law enforcement has failed in Scioto County," Williams said. "It is the duty of your office to act as the chief executive officer of Ohio."

Lausche has refused to send the Ohio National Guard to Portsmouth until citizens or law enforcement agencies there ask for it. Portsmouth has been without telephone service since Oct. 15 when the company closed exchanges in that area after they were stoned. The stoning was one of several incidents during the long and bitter strike by Communications Workers of America which began last July. The union has denied responsibility for strike violence.

Song Makes Him Want To Talk To Kentuckian

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The nostalgic strains of "My Old Kentucky Home" apparently were too much for a New Yorker Sunday.

A man identifying himself as Emmett Francis O'Rourke telephoned the police station from New York, played a recording of the song and then asked to speak to "somebody in Kentucky."

Switchboard operator Jean Baxter told him she, of course, was in Kentucky and asked whom he was calling.

"Just anybody in Kentucky," said the voice. "You'll do." After six minutes of long distance music — and little else — the call was cut off.

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles

Science Finds Healing Substance That Does Both — Relieves Pain — Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain — without surgery. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all — results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) — discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H. At your druggist. Money back guarantee. "Reg. U.S. Pat. Off."

It's a Whiz at Everything a car should do

It turns out that the 1957 Buick is far more than just a brand-new automobile.

It turns out that this new '57 Buick is winning the raves with a new kind of going and a new kind of stopping—a new kind of handling and a new kind of road sureness—a new kind of safety and a new kind of comfort.

We'll be specific.

When you press the pedal of a new '57 Buick, the response is literally instant...

Because the high-torque power of a new 364-cubic-inch V8 engine is delivered in the split of a second through a new full-range Variable Pitch Dynaflo* that's immediate in its oil-smooth action.

When you brake to a stop, you and the car stay on a level plane...

Because an ingenious new ball-joint suspension in every '57 Buick virtually ends the down-in-front dip that cars have on sudden stops.

When you take a turn or swing into an "S" curve, you still hug the road like a streamliner on rails—

Because under you is a massive wide-frame new chassis that "nests" the whole car inches closer to the road with the lowest center of gravity in Buick history—yet with no change in road clearance.

And when you sit in the deep comfort of those soft wide seats, you can drive with the pleasant ease of a clear conscience, without watching the speedometer...

Because only in Buick today can you have an ingenious new Safety-Minder* that acts as a warning sentinel for the miles-per-hour you preset for yourself.

There are many other new things that make this gorgeous Buick a car of limitless wonders—from the bigger and more rakish windshield that makes seeing more relieving, to the extra roominess that's so surprising in this beauty with the sports-car lowness.

But there's nothing like a firsthand sampling to know how modern the newest thing on wheels really is. Come in today for your meeting with the newest Buick yet.
